These are the guys and gals of KHS, enacting one of the many scenes that make up the wonderful life that is high school. For four years we have walked and talked in these halls just as we are doing here. We realize that the short years we have spent here have truly been the best of our lives. This is our story of those four years, as we have lived them and loved them.

STUDIES

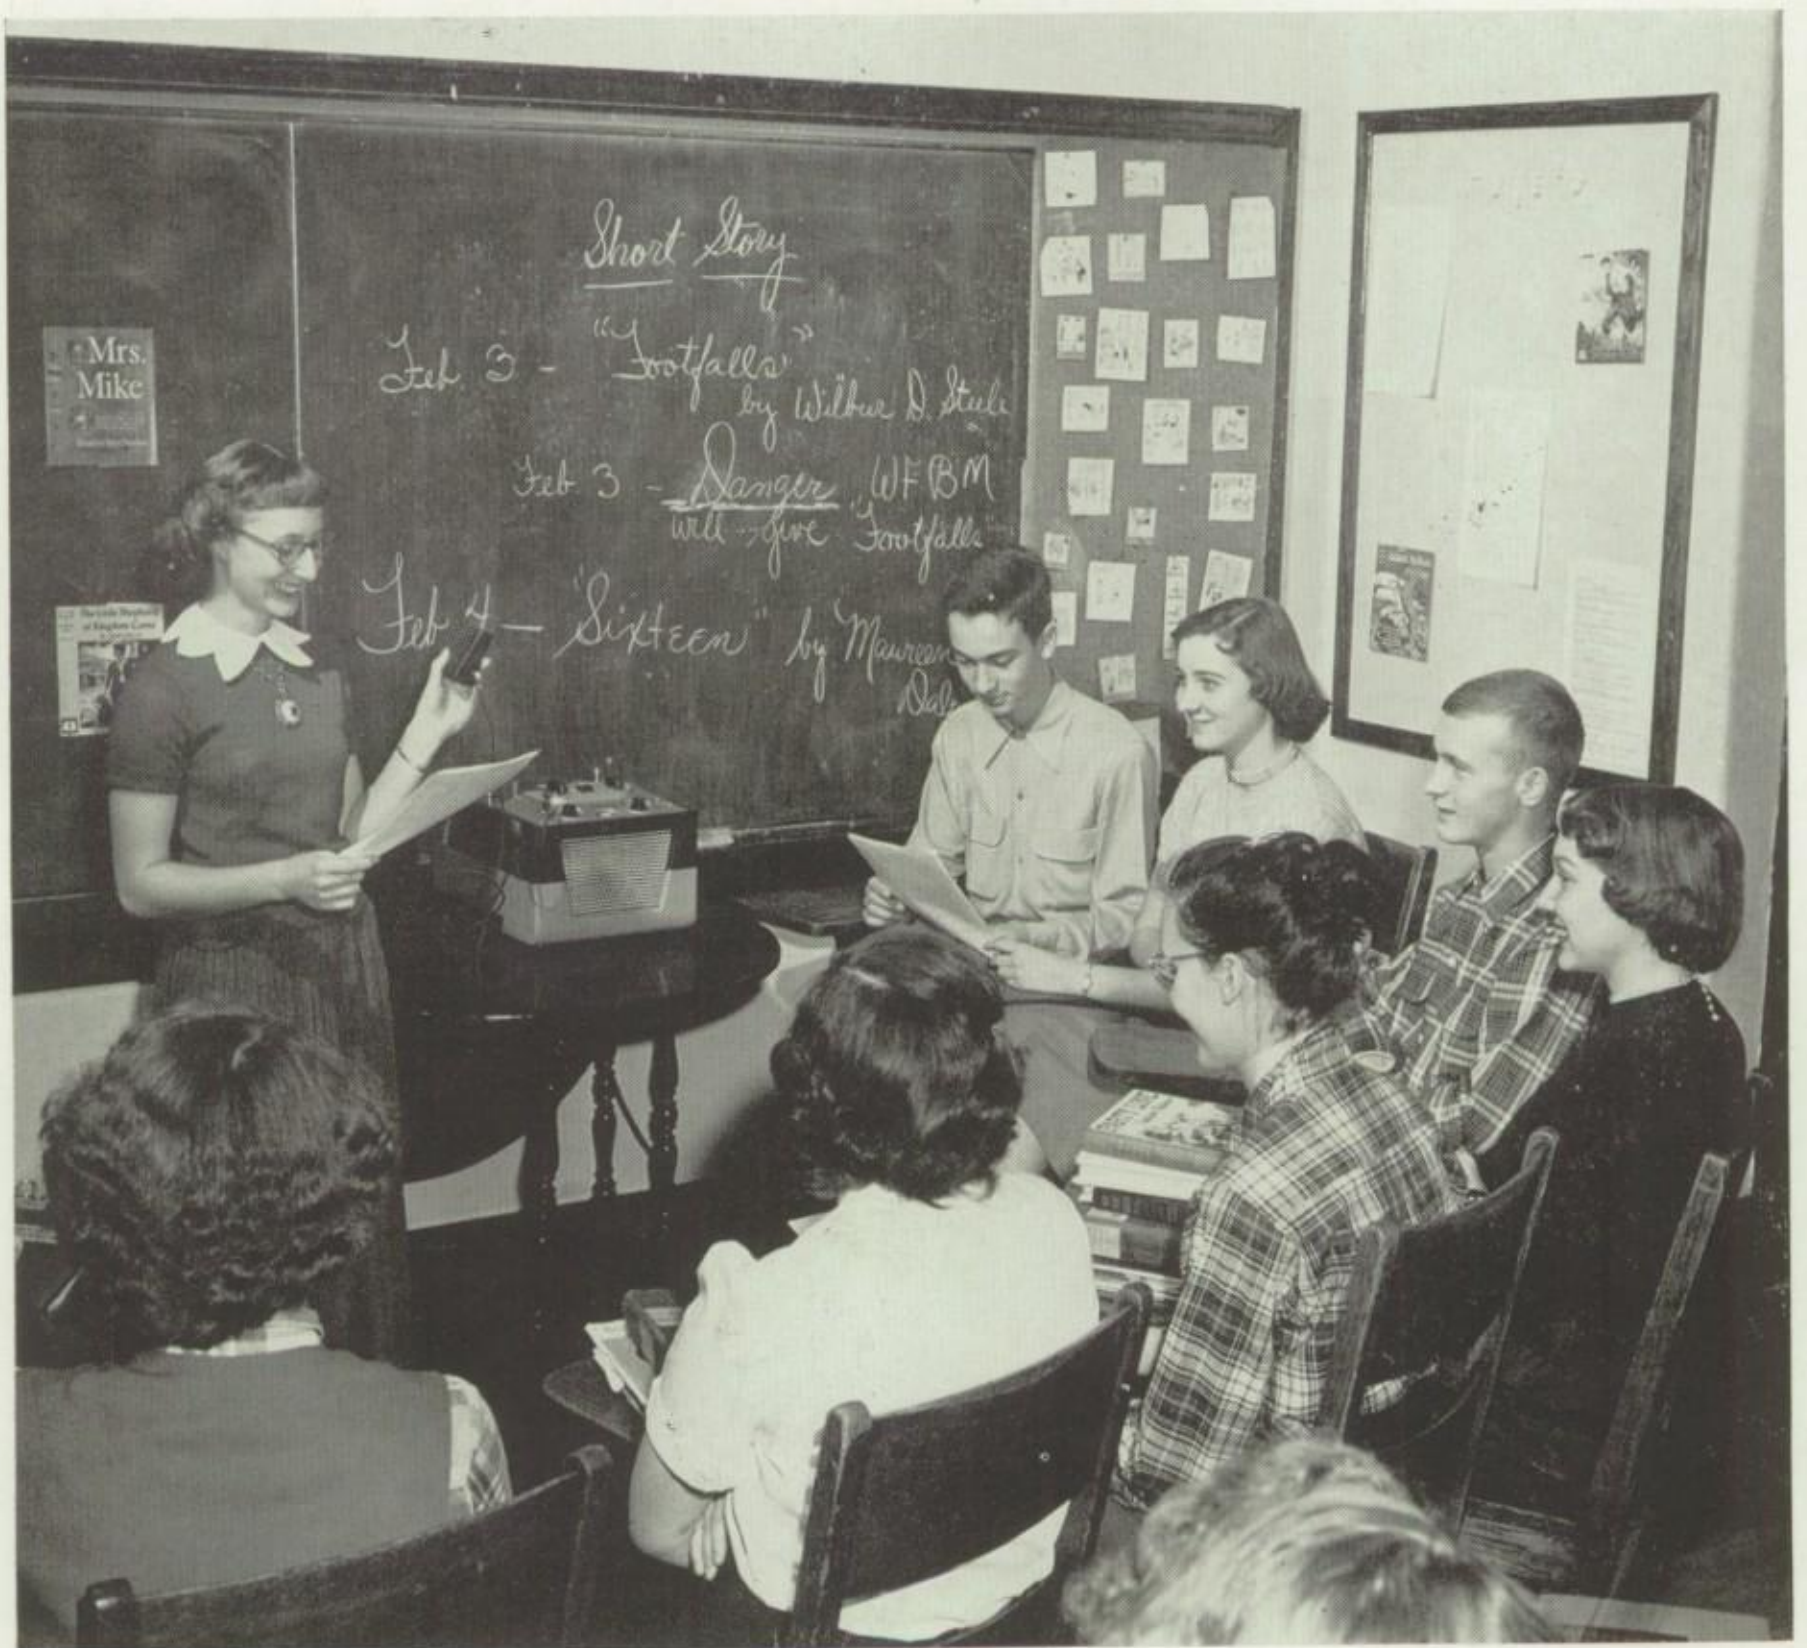

ENGLISH

And where do you think you could find the "jack-of-all-trades" in KHS? We would probably look to the English department, for amid the hustle and bustle of teaching and grading papers, English teachers are also responsible for such varied activities as dramatics, debates, Sargasso, Red and Blue, plays and radio programs. Miss Elizabeth Handley, head of the department, even started a book club which is available to all students who enjoy reading.

This department, which includes such subjects as speech, business English, American and English literature, and composition, is quite proud of its fine teachers and excellent course of study.

Such versatile teachers have made our English classes a very interesting and enjoyable part of our journey through high school.

Carolie Carroll records her voice as other members of this sophomore English class look on.

Ruth Ann Clark, waves an enthusiastic hand in response to Elizabeth Naftzger's explanation of the declension of Latin nouns.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Como esta usted? (How are you?) Valeo tibi gratis ago. (I am well, thank you.)

Such fluently-spoken expressions transport us to the lands of hot tomas, bull fights, or Roman feasts and chariot races.

Miss Ruth Campbell's Spanish students study the customs and costumes of our South American friends, while Miss Helen Railsback leads her students back to the days when all the world bowed before the conquering Caesar.

Annette Hesselman, Bill Morgan, Ann Murray, Sandra Mayer and Sandra Russell study the latest in Spanish attire while Joe Hendrix, Barbara Golightly, Judy Huston, Mary Richardson, Delmar Demaree, John Bowers, and Ernie Boodt learn of our Spanish-speaking neighbors in Central America.

Smiles of satisfaction from the members of the Freshman algebra class indicate the solution is finally at hand.

MATH

Everyone knows that two and two are four, but when it comes to figuring square roots, equations, and trig problems, it requires a much deeper concentration.

Our math department headed by Mr. Lee Dixon, who is also head man in the science department, has taught us that math is important in our other subjects and in everyday life. The studies in Kokomo High vary from the simplest forms of math to the most complicated problems of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. We learn that the wigwams and moon-like figures drawn on the blackboard are really triangles and spheres.

Although no Albert Einsteins have been produced within our walls, these mathematicians have left their classes with an increased knowledge of the subject.

"Oh, look what I see!" The members of Mr. Olin Meritt's biology class invade the domain of the amoeba.

SCIENCE

Mr. John Myer's advanced chemistry class watches approvingly as another substance is added to the solution.

Acid holes in our best pants, bugs, experiments, and projects got us off to the usual start in our science classes. On biology field trips we became hot, scratched, muddy, and thoroughly contented if we managed to catch one butterfly or grasshopper.

We learned in chemistry that hydrachloric acid will burn holes in shirts or sweaters. We also discovered that burning sulfur produces a suffocating odor which rapidly fills the entire building and causes the non-chemistry students and teachers to open windows and glance antagonistically towards room 304.

In physics we learned that gravitation is the force which causes an apple to fall down rather than up. Through demonstrations and projects we were able to discover many of the how's and why's behind mechanics, sound, heat, light, and electricity.

We science students have many wonderful experiences to remember. Thorough these classes we have gained a greater knowledge of science and learned cooperation by working together.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Would you like to journey with Washington across the Delaware? Or perhaps you would rather bounce along with Teddy Roosevelt and his Rough Riders. Well, since we have no time machines at KHS, the best place to re-live such experiences is in our social science department.

Under the guidance of Mr. Fred Mustard, who heads the department, our teachers present many historical events to us in our world history, American history, and geography classes.

If you would like to gain a better understanding of your neighbors and social relations, then the sociology class is the place for you. In our civics and government classes we study the functions of our present day government.

Our social science classes give us a sound basic knowledge of world conditions and help prepare us for the many important events to come.

Barbara Golightly, Sue McCann, Norman Brown, Tom Barnett, Pat Darlin, and Richard Walker listen and practice as Sgt. Elwood Lewellyn displays apparatus for finger printing.

Gary Stock points out Indiana's strategic economic position to the members of Miss McIntosh's sixth-period government class.

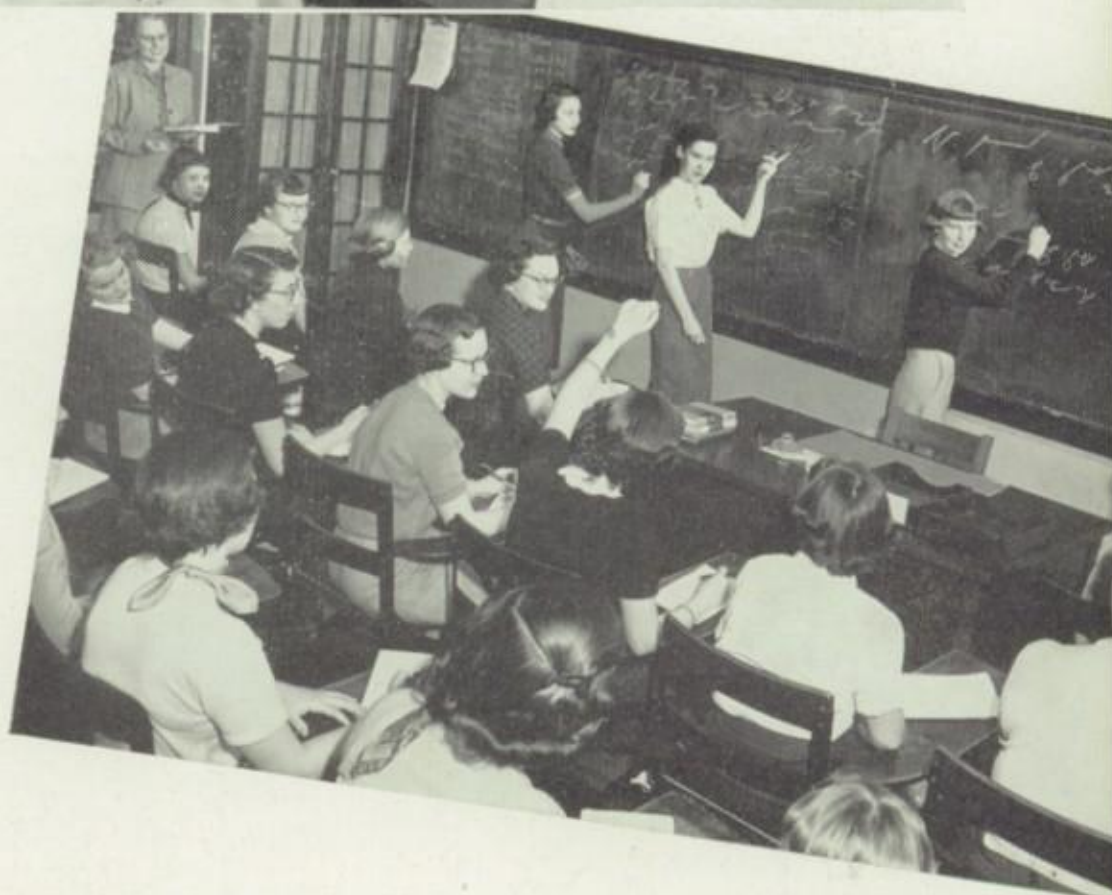

The rhythmic peck of the typewriter is music to the ears of the students of the typing class.

COMMERCIAL

"Take a letter," might well be what you would hear as you pass one of the shorthand classes in our commercial department. You might even see the students of an office practice class busy at work on the adding machine, comptometer, ediphone, or working on their assignments. Next door in the typing room, several enthusiastic students are pounding away at their typewriters trying to complete their assignments on time. The class of bookkeeping in the neighboring room is busily trying to decrease their deficit.

It is in these classes that you will find the future business leaders of Kokomo. These boys and girls are learning the fundamentals of office work with the help of their teachers and the up-to-date office equipment which we are indeed fortunate to have.

Mr. Russell Bratton serves as head of the department.

All the fancy lines and curves have definite meaning for the students of Mrs. Isabella Legg's shorthand class.

Miss Bernice McKinley's art class applies finishing touches to another masterpiece.

ART AND MUSIC

Those students who worship the Muses find a chance to expand their interests in the music appreciation and art classes.

Under Miss Bernice McKinley, the art classes study the works of famous painters and develop their own talents.

The music department is under the expert supervision of Mr. Joseph Ragains and Miss Mary A. Fausset. Their goal is to teach students a better understanding of music, both classical and popular.

Mr. Joseph Ragains prepares to play a selection for his society of music lovers.

Serving with such etiquette is to flatter Emily Post.

HOME ECONOMICS

Cooking can really be fun, especially when it is done in a new modernistic kitchen. The home economics department has provided such a kitchen with new stoves, sinks, and sparkling white cabinets, not to mention automatic washers and driers and even a garbage disposal.

Nothing could be finer for a place to enjoy the prepared food than the new model dining room. Complete with lovely drapes, book shelves, davenport and chairs, it is enough to make any girl look forward to the day when she will be a homemaker.

The cooking class learns the finer points of the culinary crafts.

It's all so easy if you know how. Of course, a little assistance from Gene Tilley and Mr. Frank Overton always helps.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL ED

Our health classes are the basis for our knowledge of the functions and care of the body. In this class we learn to prevent careless accidents, to care for the sick, and to administer first aid when necessary.

The purpose of our physical education program is to teach fitness of the body, co-operation, fair play, and getting along with others.

"... And this is part of the digestive tract," explains Linda Hawkins as Jeanette Burnett looks pensively on.

Mr. Frank Moore explains the angles and arcs to students of his drafting class.

VOCATIONAL

Across our high school courtyard lies our contribution to vocational success. We mean, of course, the Haworth Vocational Building. Here we find a large array of any one of many desired vocational fields. These range all the way from designing jewelry to repairing Model T's. (After all, not all education comes from books.) If we would peek into a few classes, we might see one boy busy on a tri-corner bookcase. In another class, one could see a fellow hard at work on a garage blueprint. Experience from the printing classes results very favorably in the publication of our Red and Blue. All this, and much more, is why our vocational building is one of the newest and most important additions to our school.

Mr. Alfred Himelick is the head of the vocational department.

The wheels go 'round and motors grind as the machine shop moves along in full swing.

Useful and attractive handiwork is the object of these students of the arts and crafts class.

ACTIVITIES

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Wolves beware!! The "gals" have organized.

The Girls' League, the only organization in KHS which makes every girl in high school an active member, is sponsored by Mrs. Audra Lindley and Miss Estella Pearce, our Deans of Girls.

For student leadership, the girls chose as president, Mary Jo Arnold; first vice-president, Betty Sablotne; second vice-president, Marlene Frye; secretary, Barbara Bassett; and treasurer, Sue Wetzel. The members of the Council were Shirley Ironmonger, Pat Darlin, Seniors; Sally Dawson, Mary Jo Vaught, Juniors; Mary Richardson, Myra Klingerman, Sophomores; and Elizabeth Simpson, Judy Winslow, Freshmen.

A spectacular beginning of the year's activities was the annual Autumn Prom. With great anticipation each girl awaited the opportunity to ask that certain someone, and finally, on October 18, the dance was given in the Memorial Gymnasium.

With Christmas just around the corner and everyone dreaming of the wonderful holiday festivities ahead, it was no wonder that the Girls' League Holly Sale was so successful. (But alas!! no mistletoe.)

As the school year drew to a close, the girls honored their mothers at the Mother-Daughter Reception given at the high school cafeteria on May 1.

Through membership in the Junior-Senior Leadership Club for upperclassmen and Helping Hands Club for freshmen and sophomores, each girl grew in leadership, poise, and understanding of others, which is the outstanding purpose of the Girls' League.

AUTUMN PROM

Like a touch of magic, the Memorial Gymnasium was transformed into "Oriental Gardens", the theme for the annual Autumn Prom held on October 18, 1952. The two hundred couples attending the dance were feted with music by Kay Lyle's dance band. Co-chairmen of the event were Sheila Shirar and Mary Norma Bassett, while Mrs. Audra Lindley and Miss Estella Pearce served as co-sponsors.

To carry out the theme, hanging lanterns, flower-covered archways and a backdrop depicting a Chinese scene completed the Oriental setting. The couples were given favors of small umbrellas and Chinese faces topped with ming hats. Co-chairmen of the decoration committee were Shirley Braskett and Judy Morrow.

The highlight of the evening, was the crowning of Bob Cupp as Rex. Serving as his court were John Klingerman, Jim Morrow, David Stevenson, and Howard Barnett. The coronation was followed by the grand march in which everyone participated. Mary Jo Miley and Nancy Walker were co-chairmen of the coronation committee.

Co-chairmen of other committees were: Alma Jean Ahlbrand and June Rowland, chaperones; Judy Blessing and Rebecca Ridnour, checking; Sharon Kessler and Ernestine Nelson, entertainment; Sue Carroll and Nancy Daugherty, programs; Ann Downhour and Susan Kaegi, publicity; Johnita Coombs and Pat Ingels, refreshments; and Mary Dee Freed and Agnes Shuck, tickets.

Through the co-operation of each committee, the dance was a memorable success.

HOLLY SALE AND MOTHER AND DAUGHTER RECEPTION

The Christmas season is ushered in at KHS each year with the Girls' League holly sale. This year, through the efforts of Mary Carr and Ruth McEntee, co-chairmen, the event was a successful fund-raising project for the League.

The Mother-Daughter Reception, held on May 1, gave the girls an opportunity to honor their mothers with a delicious supper served in the cafeteria. An interesting program in the auditorium was enjoyed by all, and, of course, the evening was high-lighted by the announcement of next years Girls' League officers. Cynthia Ballantine and Eleanor Miller did a splendid job as co-chairmen of the Reception.

The girls and their mothers dined and chatted in the congenial atmosphere of the Mother-Daughter Reception.

BOYS' LEGION

Inside: Junior Grant, Phil Darst, Paul Root, Roger Beane.

Outside: Don Babb, Glenn Lee, Bill Rouse, Paul Bingaman, Jack Adams, Bill Foust, Don Holt, Chuck Grace, Gene Miller, John Klingerman, Ed Hollander, John Hudson, Cliff Clester, Guy Tillet.

Standing: Dean John Paul Jones.

Founded in 1936 by Dean J. P. Jones, the Boys' Legion opens its membership to each boy who enters the doors of Kokomo High School.

At the first of the school year the boys elected Chuck Grace as their president. He was ably assisted by Bill Foust, vice-president; Gene Miller, secretary; John Klingerman, treasurer; and Don Holt, sergeant-at-arms.

The fellows also chose twelve boys to represent them on the Board of Directors. The mighty Seniors chose as their representatives to the Board, Cliff Clester, Roger Beane and Guy Tillet. Bill Grant, John Hudson and Bill Taylor were the Juniors elected. The Under-Classmen chose Don Babb, Glen Lee, and Paul Root; Phil Darst, Paul Bingaman, and Bill Rouse as the Sophomore and Freshman representatives, respectively.

The Boys' Legion continued the custom established the preceding year of sponsoring a Dads' Day football banquet. During the game the fathers wore their sons' numerals and were seated on a bench directly behind the players. After the game a banquet was held in their honor.

The Hullabaloo, our annual variety show, was a grand success. With its own crooner and its many clever acts, the Hullabaloo provided fine entertainment for all. Our thanks to Ed Hollander and his very efficient committees for a splendid production.

The Boys' Legion also financed the installation of the new stage lights.

With the proceeds from the Hullabaloo, the Boys' Legion, with Jack Adams and his very capable committees, sponsored the Stardust Ball. Dancing to heavenly music, everyone who attended will agree that the Stardust Ball of 1953 was certainly the best ever.

This concluded the year's activities, and as we look back on them we realize this has been a most successful year in the Boys' Legion history.

HULLABALOO

Using Fifty Fabulous Years as a theme, this year's Hullabaloo presented bathing beauties in Turn-of-the-Century costumes, farmerettes who clogged to "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?", a giddy chorus line of Charlestoning girls dressed in their mother's evening dresses, and song and instrument acts.

The direction and production of the show was handled by Mr. Gilbert Weldy and Mrs. L. K. Evans, who also wrote the script with the assistance of John Klingerman. The lighting of the stage was supervised by Mr. Shirl Wray. Ed Hollander was chosen general chairman by the Boys' Legion. He in turn selected a fine crew of workers for the various committees. Committee heads were Pat Sheerin, stage; Jack Adams, house; Walter Johns, publicity; Bob Smith, curtain; Rick Baugher, programs; John Hoffman, scenery; Dick Cottrell and Carl Hynds, lights; Carl Grinstead, tickets; John Hipsher, properties.

Every year the Boys' Legion sponsors an evening of spice and variety, where the best talent of the school can be enjoyed. By doing such a professional job as emcee, Carl Grinstead won his way into the hearts of all in the audience. Time between scenes was not lacking in talent either, for Tom Barnett and Charles Nay kept the audience laughing with their joke routines as the Funsters. Other hit attractions were the Stardusters, the Jade Queens, and College Days portrayed by the choir.

From the overture to the finale, the Hullabaloo of '53 was a smash hit—the finest reward for the work and effort put forth.

All the cast gave sighs of relief and satisfaction as they stepped into the limelight for an encore earned for a job well done.

The Jade Queens gave us an oriental flavor. Kay Phelps, Janice Warren, Jay Shafer, Carolyn Mitchell, Kitty Jarrett, Jinny Chisholm, Suzette Vandebosch, Pat Bordner, Elizabeth Spangler, Ralene Hatch, Judy Masquelette, Janice Thompson, Phyllis Lamm, and Sue Morrison.

"How ya gonna keep 'em down on the farm?" ask the farmerettes. Susan Kaegi, Mary Norma Bassett, Ann Overmire, Sally Fultz, June Rowland, Nancy Walker, Eleanor Miller, Barbara Bassett, and Sue Wetzel.

The Brazen Bathing Beauties recall the era of the old fashioned bathing suits and the fun and frolic of the sea-side society.

Standing: Cindy Ballantine, Mary Jo Arnold, Mary Jo Miley, Sharon Kessler, and Cozetta Kerby.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

Again? Yes, again members of the Junior Class were transported to the salt mines where they slaved away on the Junior-Senior Reception of '53. Naturally, all the Juniors think that this year's Reception, held on June 6, will go down in history as the greatest of all time.

The co-chairmen of this salt-mining expedition were Kay Kellum and Larry Runyon, with Mrs. Ruth Gosma as chairman of the faculty committee. They were ably assisted by the following student co-chairmen and faculty advisers: Louise Harper, Jim Williams, and Mr. Frank Moore, Decorations; Sue Chambers, Fred Osborn, and Mr. Kenneth Warthen, Invitations; Elizabeth Spangler, Ken Heinemann, and Mrs. Jane Jones, Coronation; Mary Jo Vaught, Bill Harter, and Mr. Joe Mullins, Entertainment; Muirl Webster, Larry Dwiggins, and Mr. Chester Thompson, Programs; Wilda Freeman, Kenneth Smee, and Mrs. Louie Blanche Greenlee, Refreshments; Carol Goranson, Todd Maddock, and Mr. Ed Maddox, Reception; Janice Thompson, Junior Coon, and Mr. Geneal Prather, Checking.

The candidates for Queen of the Reception were nominated by the Senior boys in their roll rooms, but the fellows in the Junior Class had the final say in choosing the queen.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Rap! Rap! Rap!

"The meeting will please come to order," announced president Rick Baugher. "Will the secretary, Barbara Bassett, read the minutes of last week's meeting?"

Thus began a typical meeting of the 1952-53 Student Council. Backing up Rick and Barbara were the other capable officers, Gene Miller, vice-president, and Julia Grable, treasurer.

With the minutes read and approved, the Council, composed of a representative from each roll room, turned to study some phase of student activities. Perhaps it was the selection of Yell Leaders or possibly plans for the Junior Red Cross Drive. They might have been promoting a visit of the Tuberculosis Mobile X-Ray Unit, organizing Christmas baskets for needy families, or providing a beautifully decorated Christmas tree for our front hall.

There were many other things to do: football and basketball tickets had to be distributed, monitor chairs were painted, and the "clean-up" campaign conducted to beautify our campus. Our representatives in the Student Council were also responsible for publishing and distributing the Lens, our KHS handbook, in the fall.

All these activities, and many more, were effectively conducted by the Council this year.

In its program and its efforts to provide beneficial student activities, our Student Council had the helpful advice of Deans Estella G. Pearce, Audra Lindley, and J. P. Jones.

Four committees were organized to supervise the Council's activities and plans. These were Student Welfare, headed by Sheila Shirar; Public Relations, by John Spangler; Student Relations, by Joan Martin; and Extra-Curricular Activities, by Ken Parrish.

ORGANIZATION BOARD

Who, you may say, is the "guiding star" in the organization and direction of our school clubs? The answer to this not-so-difficult question is the Organization Board.

This group, composed of four students, two juniors and two seniors, and five faculty members, is one of the most important and active groups in all of KHS. The student members are chosen by the Student Council, while the faculty members are chosen by the Administration.

The purpose of the Organization Board is to help the school clubs operate as smoothly as possible. They help each club with its individual problems and make the rules and regulations for all of the clubs.

In order for new clubs to be formed, a representative must submit the purpose, list of officers and members, and constitution before the Organization Board.

The Board encourages students to take part in the various activities which play an important part in our school life.

This year our board of directors studied the possibilities of inaugurating a point system at KHS. They corresponded with schools having such a system, and the results of their studies will have an important bearing on future activities in KHS.

The Organization Board deserves a vote of thanks from the entire student body for a job well done.

BAND

As the brisk autumn winds began blowing across the KHS campus and as classes began settling down to regularity, you may have noticed that through the cool, quiet morning there came strains of a rousing march. No, you weren't hearing things. It was Mr. Ragains drilling our high school band in the practice formations which they used for different purposes throughout the year.

First of all came the football games, where they showed their skill in the marching formations. Fans were thrilled by such formations as the letters of the competing schools and "My Merry Oldsmobile." They were assisted in these formations by the lovely majorettes. The band also helped in community projects such as the Get-Out-the-Vote drive by forming political insignia at a football game.

The snappy color guard led the band in all parades, such as the Halloween and Santa Claus parade. These and other parades made up a portion of the band's activities.

In the spring, the band participated in innumerable events. The District Choral Festival, in which Mr. Ragains directed the massed bands, was one of them. Another was the Four-City Music Festival, which was held at Marion. Playing for pep sessions and many convocations kept it very busy.

The band's last renditions were "Pomp and Circumstance" and "The Triumphal March," which they traditionally play at commencement.

Thus, under the excellent direction of Mr. Joseph Ragains and the capable leadership of its officers, another very successful year of our KHS band was closed.

KOKOMO HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

Kokomo High School has a right to be proud of its fine Choir. It has become the prime entertainment for civic clubs and organizations in Kokomo and has established itself as one of the leading high school choirs in the State. The success of the Choir may be accredited to its excellent director, Miss Mary A. Fausset.

Some of its programs have become traditional; for example, the Christmas Concert. No one in the high school would feel as if it were time to start Christmas vacation if he did not gather first with the Choir around the tree in the front hall to sing Christmas carols. Every Senior plans to hear the Choir sing at Baccalaureate, and every Senior member of the Choir looks forward to singing "The Lord's Prayer" on this occasion.

To prove its versatility the Choir stepped out in kilts to entertain the Scotch at the Robert Burns' Banquet. Then in the Hullabaloo, the proud members of this singing organization donned 1930 college apparel and vigorously sang such selections as "You Can Win, Winsoki," and "Sweet Varsity Sue." The choir took an active part in the Howard County Music Festival, the Four City Music Festival, and The State Chorus Contest.

With tears in their eyes, the senior members of the choir sang carols as they realized this was their last Christmas in KHS.

When the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, and Mixed Chorus join the Choir in presenting a program, you are assured of good music and pleasant entertainment. And pleasant entertainment is what the annual program, the Choral Cavalcade, presents. This year the Choir used "Old Favorites" as the theme, and the ever popular songs which were sung, brought fond memories to the proud parents in the audience. The Senior members, knowing that this would be the last important concert which they would sing in high school, sadly acknowledged the generous applause.

The officers of the Choir this year were Don

Best, president; Fred Adams, vice-president; Marlene Frye, secretary; Joyce Beecher, treasurer. Section leaders were Roberta Richey, altos; John Huffman, basses; Sue Carroll, sopranos; Phil Thatcher, tenors.

The able accompanist was Mary Dee Freed. In room 315 each sixth period she assisted Miss Fausset, and together they tried to "iron out" a few note problems.

Encore after encore continues to prove the choir is "tops." And for this reason, it shall maintain its post as one of the most popular extra curricular activities in Kokomo High School.

The choir donned their coonskin caps and freshman beanies to bring back to the Hullabaloo the good old days when college spirit was at its peak.

PURDUE LEGISLATURE

"All aboard for the Purdue Legislature!" This was the cry that rang out last December for ten politicians of KHS who were headed for Purdue's large Music Hall. There they were to learn how our Indiana General Assembly is conducted by participating in the annual model assembly, composed of high school students from all over Indiana.

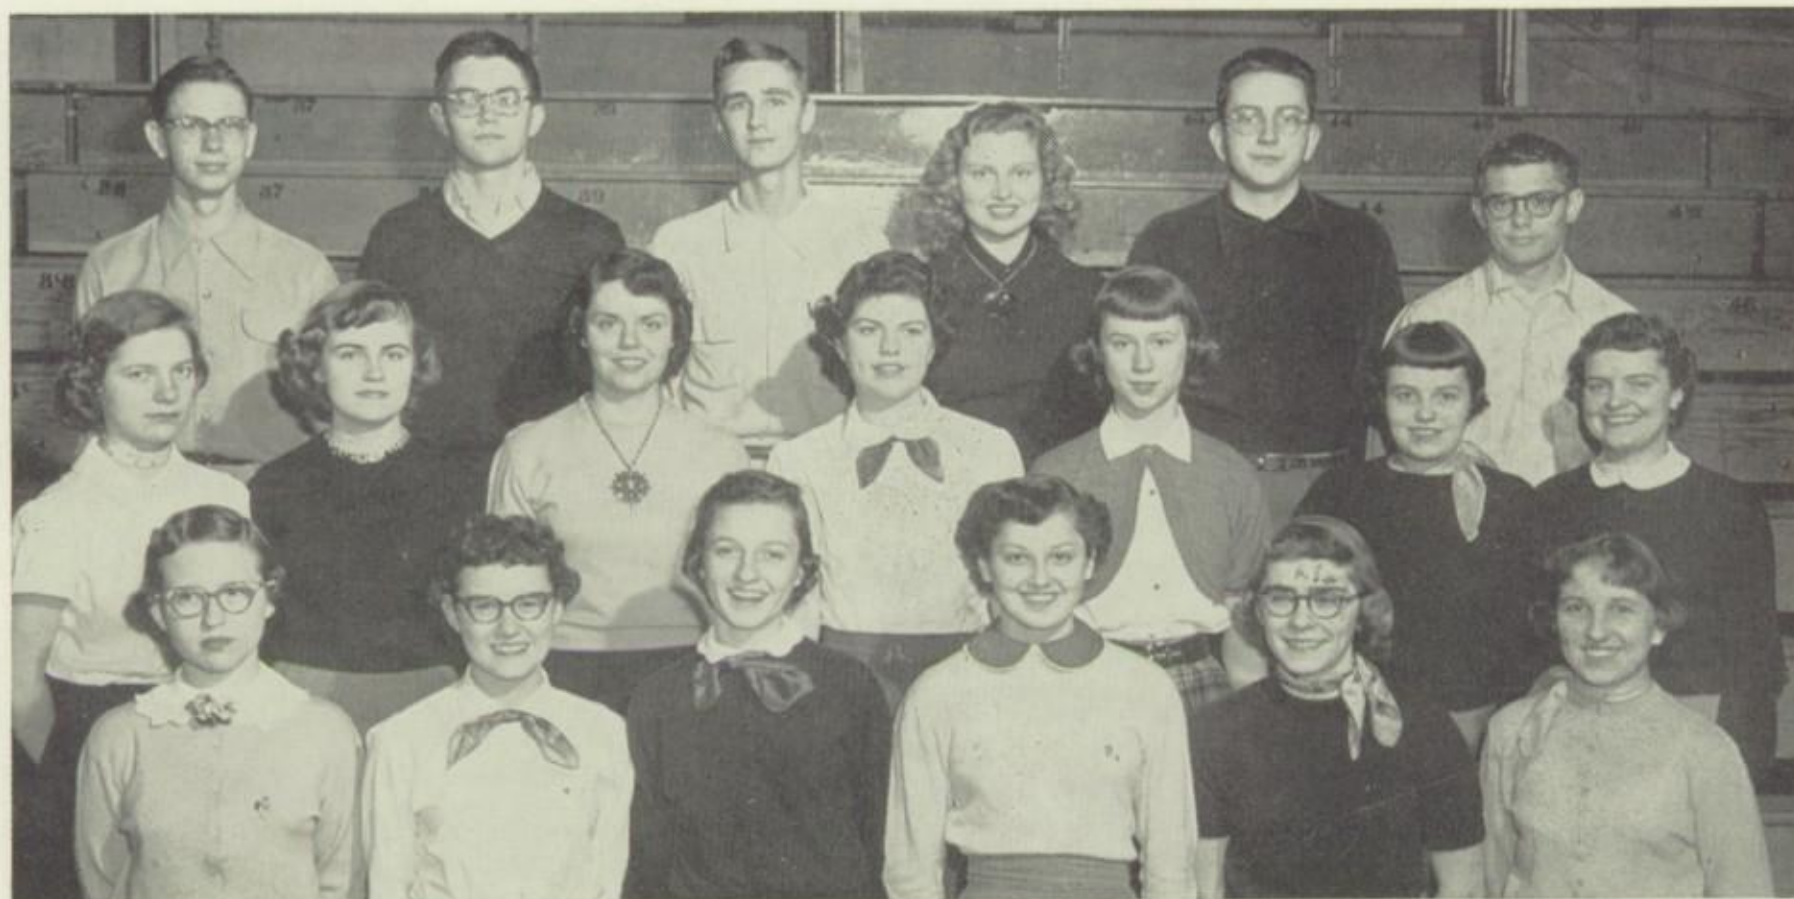

Representing our school were Senator Gene Miller and Representatives Rick Baugher, John Spangler, Art Lindsay, and Nancy Walker, with their alternates. The members were chosen from the Speech Club and Debate Club, under the direction of Miss Lilith Farlow and Mr. Gilbert Weldy, who also went as chaperones.

Upon reaching their destination, the group soon found that running the General Assembly was no easy job. After hearing a speech by Governor Schricker and being formally sworn in, they wasted no time in dividing into committees whose job it was to introduce bills to the assembly. This body had its work cut out for them during that afternoon and part of the next day, voting on the various bills brought up by the committees.

Of course, all work and no play would have made the delegates very dull politicians. Realizing this, the Purdue Playshop saw that they were well entertained during their first evening by the presentation of Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice. Between this and other side-lights common to any college campus, the young politicians were not too overworked when the Legislature adjourned after another successful annual session.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Many KHS graduates will remember the day they received their invitations to become members of the National Honor Society as one of the happiest in their school career. This organization has provided an opportunity for recognizing those students who maintained a "B" average and assumed leadership in extra-curricular activities. The local chapter of the Society was formed in May, 1930, with twenty-three members.

In selecting new members for the Society each year, the entire faculty votes upon the list of candidates who are scholastically eligible. The practice is that of electing to membership 15% of the Senior Class and 5% of the Junior Class.

Emphasis is placed on the four-sided development of Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. It is indeed a challenge for the members to live up to the motto of the organization, "the quest of the best."

It is quite a thrill for the initiates to receive the little blue and yellow ribbons which they are given in the initiation ceremony. This takes place each spring in an auditorium program before the underclassmen. The student is then eligible to wear the emblem of the group, a gold pin inscribed with a flaming torch.

One of the projects this year was to inform the Freshmen students about the honors which can be earned through applying the four principals of the organization. This was carried out by representatives who spoke in the Freshmen roll rooms. The Honor Society climaxed its activities for the year by holding a banquet for members and sponsors. This event provided an opportunity for old and new members to become better acquainted.

Members chose the following students to serve as their officers: Bill Foust, president; John Spangler, vice-president; Alma Jean Ahlbrand, secretary; John Ringle, treasurer.

The advisors who guided the group were Miss Helen Railsback, Mrs. Margaret Ann Evans, Mrs. Alice Farrar, Mr. Edson Van Dorn, Mr. Joseph Powell, Mr. Edward Phillips, and Mr. Olin Meritt.

RED AND BLUE

Don Nelson, Judy Masquelette, Carolyn Mitchell, Carolyn Mustard, Mr. Charles Franklin, Alice Radliff, Judy Blessing, and Bob Emery keep the Red and Blue out of the Red.

"Peck, — peck — peck" may be heard from the busy typewriters in the Red and Blue room during the seventh period as students bustle about to meet a deadline or to get a page to the Vocational Building. There, every other week, 1500 copies of our school paper are printed.

The Red and Blue serves as a 'melting pot' for KHS news. The door to 219 is constantly opening and closing with students bringing in news of current happenings, such as slumber parties, new 'steadies', fashion trends, and small incidents in classes and the halls.

Junior Assistants Debbie Kopelov, Mary Emily Pearce, Kay Kellum, Sally Dawson, Bill Harter, and Annette Hesselman plan the Junior issue.

The four special editions that were published throughout the year are "keepers" for everyone. The Thanksgiving and Christmas issues carried the sentiments of those wonderful seasons, while the second-annual Basketball Special, edited before the sectional tournament, and the Senior Issue made a memorable permanent record of "Who's Who" in KHS.

Art Lindsay, editor-in-chief, held the reins of the editorial staff and was responsible for efficient reporting and cleverly-written articles. Aiding as assistant editors were Sue Wetzel, news; Alma Jean Ahlbrand, assistant news; John Hipsher, sports; June Rowland, feature; John Hoffman, art; Ron Bennett, head typist; Betty Dillman, proof reader; Roberta Richey and Debbie Kopelov, copy readers.

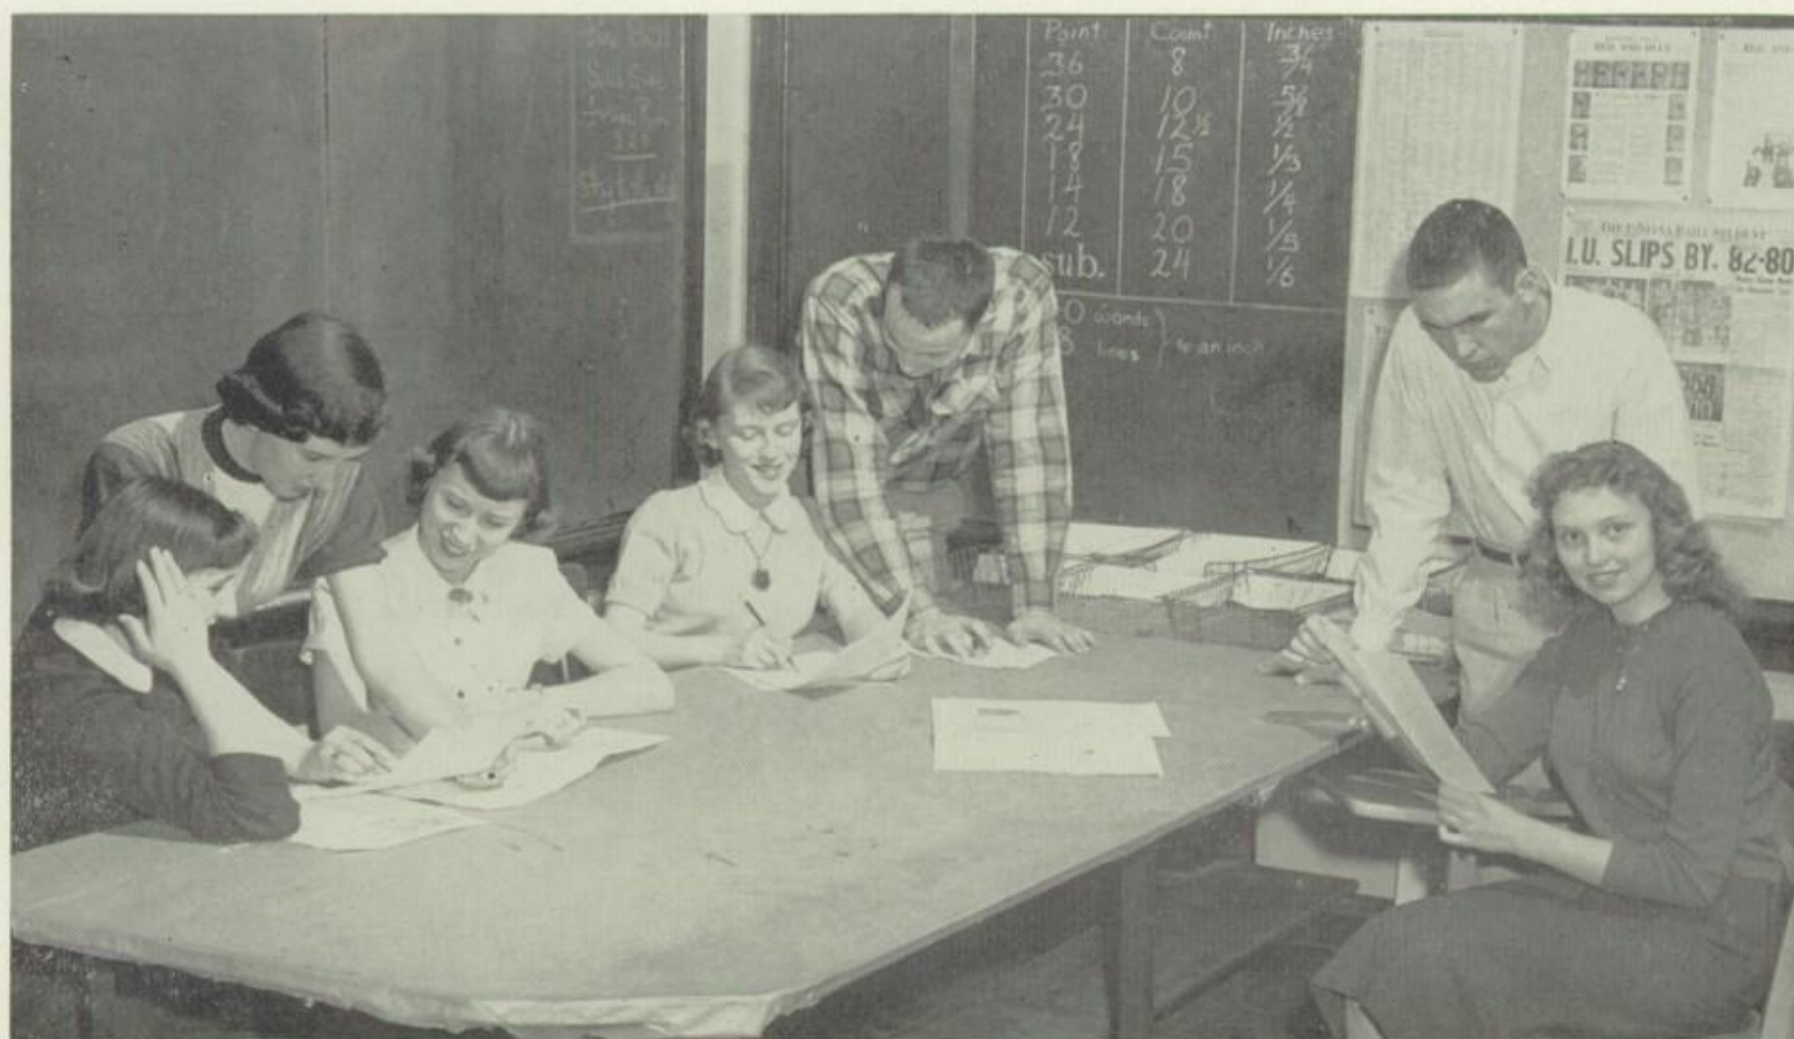

The business staff was headed by Alice Radcliff the first semester and Judy Blessing the latter. Their staff included Joe Walker and Don Nelson, circulation managers; Judy Blessing and Carolyn Mustard, advertising; Carolyn Mitchell and Judy Masquette, corresponding secretaries; Carolyn Mustard and Bob Emery, production managers.

With Mrs. Mildred Kern to advise the editorial staff and Mr. Charles Franklin ably assisting the business staff, students working on the Red and Blue will never forget their journalistic experiences.

The staff had many good times in making this '52-'53 publication year one of the best ever. Along with writing, editing, and distributing the paper, they were entertained at several original parties. We'll never forget the food at the fall picnic, the clever program at the Christmas party, and the fancy boxes that rated top-bidding at the Box Social.

Mrs. Mildred Kern points the finger of authority for typists Ron Bennett and Ernestine Nelson.

Editorial Staff, Betty Dillman, June Rowland, Alma Jean Ahlbrand, Sue Wetzel, John Hipsher, Art Lindsay, and Hannah Disinger begin work on another copy of "The Voice of KHS."

SARGASSO

Of the many memories treasured in the hearts of the '53 Seniors, none could be brighter than those shared by the members of the Sargasso staff.

Getting off to a late start in the fall meant that we really had to hustle to make up for those lost summer months. Room 211 was constantly buzzing with activity (although sometimes this activity was brought about by a birthday party or a book salesman rather than hard work.) Then there were those frenzied months of March and April when we burned the candle at both ends in order to meet our deadlines with the printer. But with the help of our many friends, seniors and underclassmen alike, we were able to finish on time.

Outstanding in our memories is the birthday party for Queen Elizabeth (Handley, that is) in February. With King George (Dunbar, of course) reigning, the party was bound to be a success. (For further proof, see our snap pages.)

Along in February, the staff, as well as students and faculty on second east, were entertained (?) by the skit which Miss Handley and Ruth prepared for the Hullabaloo. It expressed their mutual love for that wonderful American delicacy, CHOCOLATE. The staff was deeply offended when the skit was not accepted for the performance. (We understand that John was secretly grateful when the rehearsals were discontinued.)

Barbara Beck and Marlene like to tell the story about the day when a certain typist was so deep in concentration over her boy friend's picture that they had a complete page of twenty-four senior pictures pasted before they realized that this picture was missing. The result—all the pictures had to be taken off and repasted.

Our business staff, headed by Barbara Bassett and Bob Cupp, had several equally humorous adventures. It seems that the subscription sales nearly doubled when a few of the sellers promised a pink and green cover. The staff had a difficult time explaining that this was not so without losing any customers.

Junior editor Bill Carlson supervises while typists Judy Morrow and Cozetta Kerby iron out a few typing wrinkles.

Our many trips to the Vocational Building where we employed Mr. Frank Moore's drafting abilities, the all-too-infrequent visits to our printer, Mr. Russell Humphrey, and our association with Mr. Evart Adams, our photographer, have made our work on the 1953 Sargasso very enjoyable. Then there was always the satisfaction of knowing that we were doing the job for a swell bunch of kids, and that we had to make this book the best ever for your storehouse of memories. The art work of Jim Shotwell and Garry Springer helped to liven up the pages of the book and make it more enjoyable for all.

Yes, this was truly a sensational year for our Sargasso staff. Our many friends, writers, sellers, pictorial and identification staff, will never be forgotten for the wonderful way in which they co-operated with us. We take this opportunity to publicly thank each and every one of them, and especially our advisers and close friends, Miss Handley and Mr. Dunbar. These are the people who have made our senior year a memory-filled one which we will treasure always.

LENS

Each year at KHS, the bewildered freshmen are at a complete loss until they can obtain that priceless guidebook of our high school, the Lens. Even the upperclassmen scramble madly about through lack of knowledge of changes in rooms, teachers, activities, and any number of other things. This is one thing that is a necessity at the beginning of every school year. The Lens is always ready with information covering just about anything you would like to know. Very few of us, however, realize how much work is put into this booklet.

Work on the Lens begins in the spring of each year. At that time, the Student Council, the group responsible for the publication of the Lens, chooses the editor-in-chief and the business manager for the following year. This year, Hannah Disinger, as editor, and Susan Kaegi, as business manager, did marvelous jobs as heads of the Lens Staff.

Under Mr. J. P. Jones, the staff, Susan, and Hannah worked all summer in order to prepare the 1952-53 Lens. This edition, we all agree, was one of the best. Therefore it is appropriate that we congratulate these "people behind the scenes." Congratulations, gang, on a job well done!

DRAMATIC CLUB

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." The fortunate fifty-five members of our Dramatic Club took the Bard of Avon's words to heart and spent a busy year engaging in many dramatic activities.

These young Barrymores attracted a full house with their delightful presentation of the comedy George Washington Slept Here. The minor mishaps, such as the leading man being late for Act II or the stairway of the set falling partially apart, only encouraged the tremendous applause.

In addition to this three-act play, the club prepared several one-act plays and monologues which were given many times for various civic organizations. "The Romancers" and "Don't Open Till Christmas" were only two of many successful programs.

The young artists enjoyed their trips to the Purdue Playshop productions, where they studied lighting, make-up, and acting.

Under the excellent supervision of Mrs. Elsie Seagrave, Mrs. Jane Jones, and Miss Jewell Ginn, the club produced an enviably successful year. The officers were Don Best, president; John Ringle, vice-president; Sue Unger, secretary, and Sue Carroll, treasurer.

"GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE"

Have you ever longed for a home in the country—a house away from the routine life of the city? Perhaps you would change your mind if you had seen some of the troubles that Newton Fuller encountered in the Dramatic Club's production of George Washington Slept Here.

Newton, a typical businessman from the big city, buys a delapidated house in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, which according to legend, had housed George Washington. Much to his and his family's dismay, the house has no water and no road; floors fall in, horses board in the kitchen, and the seventeen-year locusts are due to arrive any day. Learning that Benedict Arnold had slept here instead of George Washington is the final blow to poor Newton.

After weeks of hard labor transforming the house into a beautiful, comfortable home, they discover that through a mistake in the deed, they must return the house to the owners in its original condition.

Revengefully they begin the destruction only to find that the house once again is theirs. A runaway daughter and a hurricane add to their calamities.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Elsie Seagrave, the cast humorously conveyed the philosophy and human interest of this play by Moss Hart and George Kaufman to the receptive audience.

Co-stars of the production were Don Best and Sue Unger, portraying Newton Fuller and his wife.

The comedy was provided by such characters as Hester, the maid, and Rena Leslie, the summer-stock actress, played by Sally Pennell and Shirley Brasket, respectively. Equally hilarious were Forrest Frank in the role of the caretaker, Eddie Seagrave playing as the nephew, while Rick Baugher portrayed the supposedly wealthy Uncle Stanley.

The rejuvenated house drew the gasps and applause of the audience. It was one of the most elaborate sets ever attempted by the Dramatic Club, and it was exceptionally lovely.

Mrs. Seagrave was assisted by Miss Jewel Ginn and Mrs. Haven Jones. Mr. Shirl Wray did a splendid job on lighting.

Through the superb acting of the entire cast and the able assistance of the directors, George Washington Slept Here was a commendable success.

"This young rascal ought to be spanked!"

PRE-DRAMATIC CLUB

The Pre-Dramatic Club has long been a favorite at KHS for those promising young actors and actresses who want to gain further experience before trying out for Dramatic Club. The members, made up of freshmen and sophomores, and under the able guidance of Mrs. Margaret Evans, learned not only the basic points of good acting but also what takes place backstage to make a production possible. A demonstration of how to apply stage make-up and various other histrionic instructions were enjoyed by the budding dramatists at their bi-monthly meetings.

Elected to head the organization this year were Julie Fuller, president; Jack Thomas, vice-president; and Ann Murray, secretary-treasurer.

This year the club put on several radio plays, which gave the members valuable experience. In addition to this, they prepared a one-act comedy called "His First Shave."

All in all, we can say that the Pre-Dramatic Club members did a fine job, gained valuable experience, and had a great time doing it.

THESPIAN SOCIETY

Presenting Troope 979 of the National Thespian Society! These are the guys and dolls, the Barrymores and Hayes of KHS, who represent your school in this national highschool honorary dramatics association.

Dedicated to the furtherance of the dramatic arts in secondary schools throughout the nation, our own troope was organized by Mrs. Elsie Seagrave and chartered by the National Council in 1949. Last fall, along with the Honor Society, it was made into a purely honorary society by the Organization Board, with no regular meetings.

It isn't as difficult to become a member of this honorary group as many KHSers may think. One hundred hours' credit, compiled by working on any school productions, and an active interest in high school drama are the only requirements for a Thespian membership. This year the Society invited anyone interested in set construction and stage crew work to serve as apprentice Thespians and in this way to earn his one hundred hours' credit to become full-fledged members.

In May, the Thespians, working with their sister organization, the Dramatic Club, presented their annual Thespian Night. The program consisted of three one act plays: "The Monkey's Paw," "A Night in the Country," and "The Trysting Place."

Leading the Thespian Society this year were Sue Unger, president; John Ringle, vice-president; Sue Wetzel, secretary; Mary Norma Bassett, treasurer; and Mrs. Elsie Seagrave, faculty adviser.

"TONS OF MONEY"

The date is March 26; the time, 8:00 P. M.; the scene, our KHS auditorium. The large audience suddenly becomes quiet as the curtain goes up and the 1953 senior class play begins.

The play Tons of Money is a three-act comedy taking place in the London home of Aubrey and Louise Maitland, ably portrayed by Rick Baugher and Sally Fultz, respectively. Living with them is their aged and slightly deaf aunt, portrayed by Barbara Bassett, who constantly provides everyone with cause for laughter. The Maitlands, an apparently wealthy family, are actually living on credit, and bill collectors are pressing in on them from every side.

When Aubrey learns he is to inherit a late uncle's fortune, his wife reminds him that the money will quickly be taken by eager bill collectors. In order that they may keep it to themselves, Louise dreams up a wild scheme. Aubrey will have to die and show up later as his cousin George, who is to inherit the fortune in the case of Aubrey's death.

Poor Aubrey is "killed," but complications set in when the butler, Sprules, cleverly played by Jack Adams, and Simpson, the maid, in the person of Sally Pennell, decide that they too would enjoy a little of the Maitland millions.

The audience is kept in stitches by the many "deaths" of Aubrey, and the repeated appearance of the three scheming impersonators of cousin George. When all three imposters, played by Jim Shotwell, Dwaine Getz, and, of course, Rick Baugher, come face to face, and when the real George Maitland's wife, portrayed by Mimi Lambert, appears to claim her husband, things really start "poppin'!"

The characters were all wonderfully portrayed by a fine cast; and, judged by the reaction of the audience, the play was a great success.

Faculty directors Mrs. Frank Kern and Mr. Shirl Wray, and student director Pat Ingles also deserve a big hand for their hard work and expert guidance. The committees, too, deserve much praise, for without them this production would never have been possible.

HI-Y'S

The Hi-Y club long ago adopted a creed: "to create, maintain, and extend throughout home, school, and community high standards of Christian character."

This year the boys of Hi-Y had a lot of fun carrying out their purpose. They polished up their high-pressure salesmanship and helped the Y's men to sell a record number of Christmas trees. At Christmas time they took over the ringing of the bells for the Salvation Army and through hook or crook managed to collect from most of the passers-by.

One of the innovations in the Hi-Y this year was the regular appearance of well known speakers. This form of educational entertainment proved very popular among the boys. Most of the topics of the speakers were based on problems which would interest the boys, who were thus instructed on subjects ranging from books to the birds and the bees.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH CLUB

Whenever we hear the name of Sir Walter Raleigh, we immediately think of gallant gentlemen spreading their cloaks across muddy streets to aid ladies in distress.

The members of the Sir Walter Raleigh Club, which is open to all junior and senior boys, may not go to such extremes; however, they are noted for their gentlemanly conduct adapted to our modern customs. These boys try to practice courtesy wherever they may be. For example, these suave members allow ladies to go before them, assist a girl with her coat, and lend assistance whenever they may be needed. Mr. Frank Moore, the club sponsor, successfully led these gallant souls as they promoted courtesy throughout our school.

The activities of the club were not limited to these acts of chivalry. One of their most important activities was the compiling of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all students and teachers in their annual publication, the Raleigh Ringer. Work on the Ringer was started months before the book was placed on sale.

The club was capably led this year by Carl Hynds, president; Todd Maddock, vice-president; and Jerry Schaffer, secretary-treasurer. These officers, together with the other members and Mr. Moore, worked hard and had lots of fun in following Sir Walter Raleigh's example of the courteous gentleman.

Andre Vishinsky wouldn't think of walking out of a meeting of the peace-promoters of KHS. The members of our International Relations Club, whose purpose is to promote interest in international affairs, are far too wise to allow him to profit from such action.

The meetings of this club gave the students a sound understanding of world conditions. During the first semester, guest speakers discussed the problems and conditions of foreign countries. Rev. Jo Riley gave an interesting account of his recent trip to Israel. Mrs. Robert Hamp showed pictures which she had taken on a trip around the world, and Gene Miller gave a talk on the United Nations and described it as he had witnessed it in action.

The second-semester activities prepared for the seventh annual model General Assembly of the United Nations, which was held at Anderson College. The local club was greatly honored by having one of its members, Gene Miller, chosen to be president of the assembly consisting of groups from eleven high schools. KHS students represented the countries of Israel, Turkey, Guatamala, Phillippine Republic, and Czechoslovakia. The topics chosen beforehand by the participating schools were: equality for natives in South Africa, European army, and peace in Korea. After the last session of the day, the students, with their advisers, met at a banquet to hear Dr. Harry Howard, who is connected with the U. N., give an interesting talk and comment on the model assembly.

The able leaders of the 1952-53 International Relations Club were Art Lindsay, president; Barbara Beck, vice-president; Cynthia Ballantine, secretary; Susan Kaegi, corresponding secretary; and Ed Hollander, treasurer. Mr. Fred Mustard is the club's sponsor.

FUTURE TEACHERS

To be a teacher! That is the desire and ambition of each member of the Future Teachers Club. To get the real low-down on teaching, these students visited grade school classes and listened to the experiences of the high school student teachers. The officers were Patricia Wood, president; Cozetta Kerby, vice-president; Phyllis Lamm, secretary-treasurer. Miss Dorothy Thornburgh is the club's sponsor.

SPEECH CLUB

Members of the newly-organized Speech Club of KHS showed their interest in speech activities by participating in more than fifty inter-scholastic debates. The officers, Nancy Walker, president; Bill Harter, vice-president; and Susan Kaegi, secretary, were guided by faculty advisors Miss Lilith Farlow and Mr. Gilbert Weldy.

The Babe Didricksons of KHS displayed their athletic talents in a very active year of participation in the many sporting events of the Girls' Athletic Association.

The G. A. A. year started with the initiation of all new members. This initiation was planned by the old members, who acted as big sisters and saw that the plebes followed the initiation rules. This explains the unusual hair and dress styles of September, 1952.

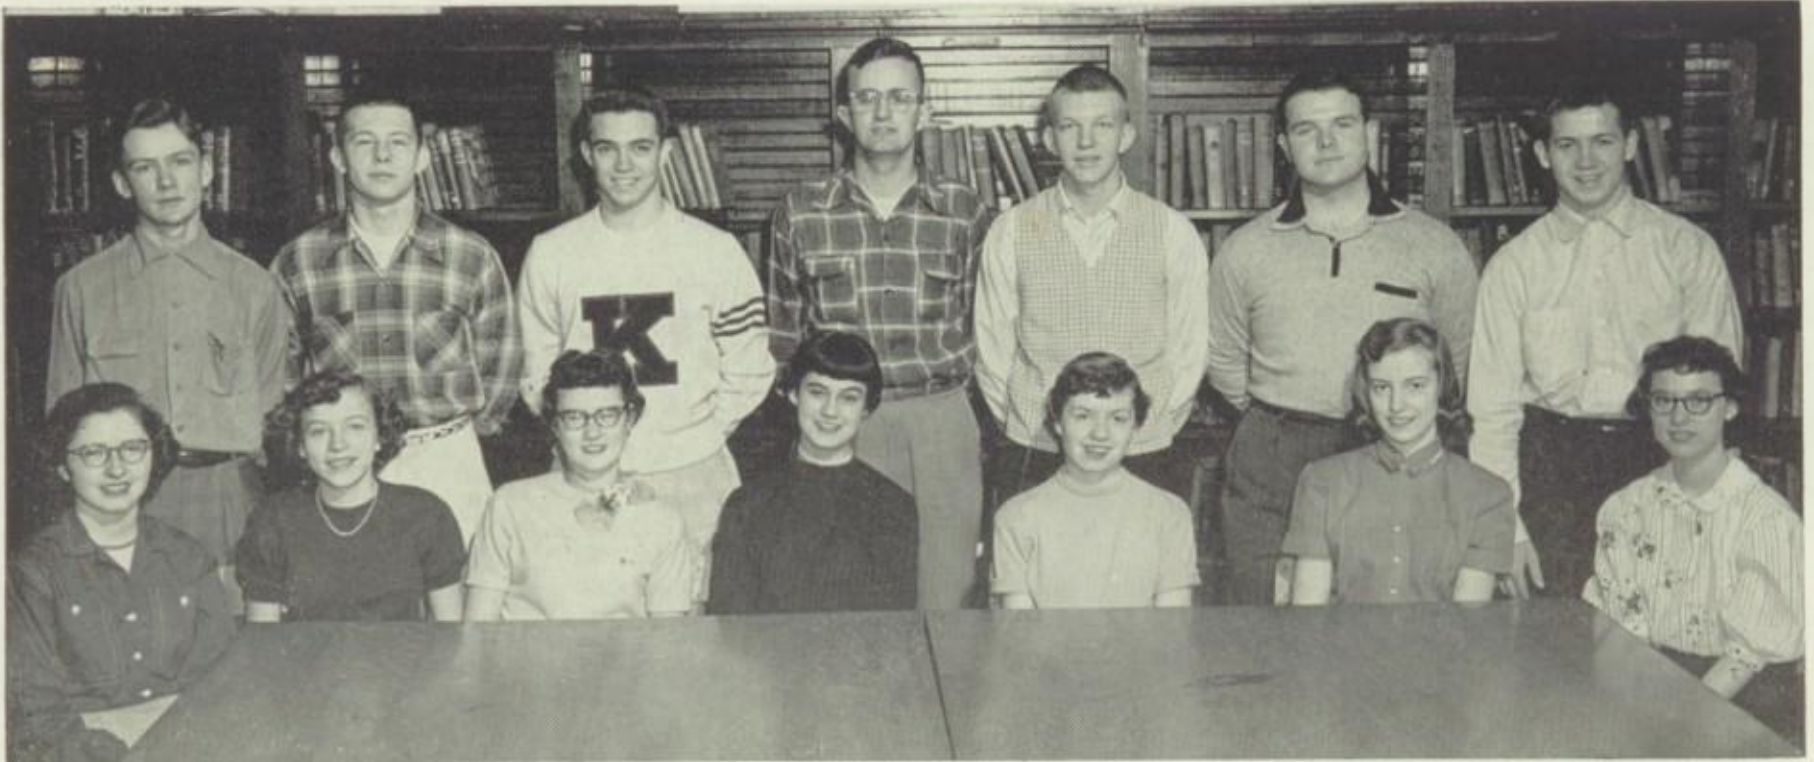

The three sports divisions of the year are fall, winter, and spring. The fall session brought soccer, volley-ball, and deck tennis. Winter ushered in basketball, bowling, tumbling, and dancing. Ping pong, shuffleboard, badminton and softball concluded the year's sport fest in the spring.

The basketball playday held in the Memorial Gym last January was the first conducted by the Kokomo girls. Broad Ripple, Jeff of Lafayette, Anderson, Elwood, Logansport, and Oxford were represented by a total count of nearly one-hundred participants. The Kokomo girls attended playdays at Purdue, Ball State, and Broad Ripple.

The club sponsors are Miss Nancy Wheeler and Mrs. Arcille Overton. The officers were Barbara Scheid, president; Doris Plummer, vice-president; Nadine Meyers, secretary; Janet Campbell, treasurer; and Eloise Brown, sergeant-at-arms.

The highest attainable award in G. A. A. is the Senior locket, which is given through the Indiana League of High School Girls' Athletics of which Kokomo is a member. The major script "K", G. A. A. emblem, and membership pin are given as local awards. These awards for the year's activities were given at the annual Mother-Daughter banquet held in May. The announcement of next year's officers was also made at the banquet.

"Stop! Let me see your pass!"

One might wonder just what is happening when he enters the portals of KHS and views the sentinels, commonly called monitors, posted throughout the building. Regardless of first impressions, this is only our monitor system at work.

The monitor system, organized by Mr. Lloyd Keisling, serves to keep the halls clear and to give directions to new students. Much to the regret of many, they also prevent those mid-class strolls through the halls or the casual exploring of the corridors. Though sometimes we don't like to admit it, we realize the monitors are a necessary evil in maintaining some semblance of order in the school.

Monitors Kitty Jarrett and Lucretia Winner slave away at their posts; well, at least they're on duty.

What is the busiest club in KHS? Well, that would be the $64 question of the year. But the Palette Club makes an able try at earning that title.

The Palette Club, sponsored by Miss Bernice McKinley, starts its school year off with a bang—better known as the rough initiation. Soon after comes the Halloween window painting which brightens the city with everything from pumpkins to Indians. The proceeds from this activity are invested wisely in such funds as the Red Cross, CARE, Community Chest, Polio Drive, and many other worthy projects.

Noticed the front hall's showcase lately? Well, often the credit goes to the Palette Club.

Recently, the club honored its past officers in all parts of the country with honorary memberships. It also held a local art contest for prizes, the winners being interviewed on the radio; and Shirley Brasket, a member of the club, received honors in a state-wide contest at Indianapolis.

Have you ever heard of having over 20 foster parents? That is a privilege which a little lady at the County Farm, Miss Georgia Githens, can boast. The Palette Club and the art classes have done their best to brighten her life.

The club sports an able team of officers which includes Louise Harper, president; Valerie Hobson, vice-president; Ronnie Brunt, secretary; Carol Goranson, assistant secretary; Judy Mock, treasurer; Phil Rayls, sergeant-at-arms; and Shelia Shirar as Red and Blue reporter.

ATHLETICS

OUR COACHES

As we look at our athletic program, one of the groups we cannot forget is the coaches. When we look at the success of our teams this year we can see that they have been trained by very capable men. These men spend many long hours each year developing the potential abilities of each player then combining these individuals to make effective teams.

In the life of a coach there are many headaches and worries, but the coach forgets these things and feels that he is well rewarded if he can watch his players develop successfully. The coach tries to teach his players something else besides the fundamental points of his own sport. He tries to instill in them competitive spirit, teamwork, and good sportsmanship. He knows that these are qualities that can be used in life as well as in athletics.

Yes, the coach does care whether his team won or lost, but he cares even more how the game was played.

The yell group is the organization which gives the yells, but the yell leaders of KHS are the ones behind every yell. These kids have followed the team all the way and given them full support. They did a grand job and are worthy members of our athletic teams.

An irreplaceable part of our sports world are the boys who boost the teams' morale and do the many necessary tasks required of the student managers. Our "waterboys" aren't given too much publicity, but their hard work gives our teams that "extra something" which is needed to succeed.

FOOTBALL

Welcoming back only two veterans from the 1951 football squad, Coach Tuffy Laymon turned out a scrappy ball club that compiled a season's record of three wins and six losses. In the North Central Conference, the Kats won three and lost three, which was good enough for fifth place behind the league champ, Richmond. In the first game, an inexperienced bunch of Wildcats met a veteran Peru team at Kautz Field. The Tigers, like the old saying, "came, saw, and conquered," as they lead all the way and won by 27-14. The Kats were caught napping on several occasions by the Tigers, and even though fighting hard, couldn't seem to find the right combination to stop the Peru attack.

The second game of the season was one of the most exciting games ever to be played on Kautz Field. That night, Broad Ripple of Indianapolis defeated the Wildcats, 22-20, in a rough-and-tumble contest. The game was close and hard fought all the way, but luck wasn't with the Wildcats as the clock ran out with the ball on the Broad Ripple 10-yard line in the Kat's possession.

Seeing red after two straight defeats, the Wildcats journeyed to Marion for their first conference game of the year. It was truly a great night for the Kats as they out-ran, out-kicked, and out-passed the Giants to win easily, 32-7. Bill Taylor broke loose and scored three of the Kats' five touchdowns, while the other two were accounted for by Bill Gamblin, who scored both on passes from Taylor and Milligan.

Lafayette Jeff, next to invade Kautz Field, brought a big, rough outfit that proved too much for the Kats to handle. The final score was 38-27 with Jeff leading all the way. The Kats fought hard, but a late rally on their part fell short.

On October 3, the Wildcats traveled to Elwood for their annual game with the Panthers. But apparently the Panthers were really fired-up, for they flattened the Kats, 28-0. It just wasn't Kokomo's night as Roger Beane ran sixty-three yards for a touchdown, only to have it called back, and Bill Taylor was denied a touchdown because of a backfield-in-motion penalty.

The next game was with Richmond's Red Devils at Richmond. The Wildcats showed up well against the odds presented and even led at one point in the game, but the overwhelming tide led by Lundy, Peters, and Fletcher soon overtook the Kats and the Red Devils rolled on to a 46-7 victory.

A week later, the Wildcats suffered their fourth straight defeat. This time it was an inspired New Castle team that rocked the Kats, 34-13. All but one of the Trojan's touchdowns were made on long runs. Bill Taylor scored the Kat's only two touchdowns and also the extra point.

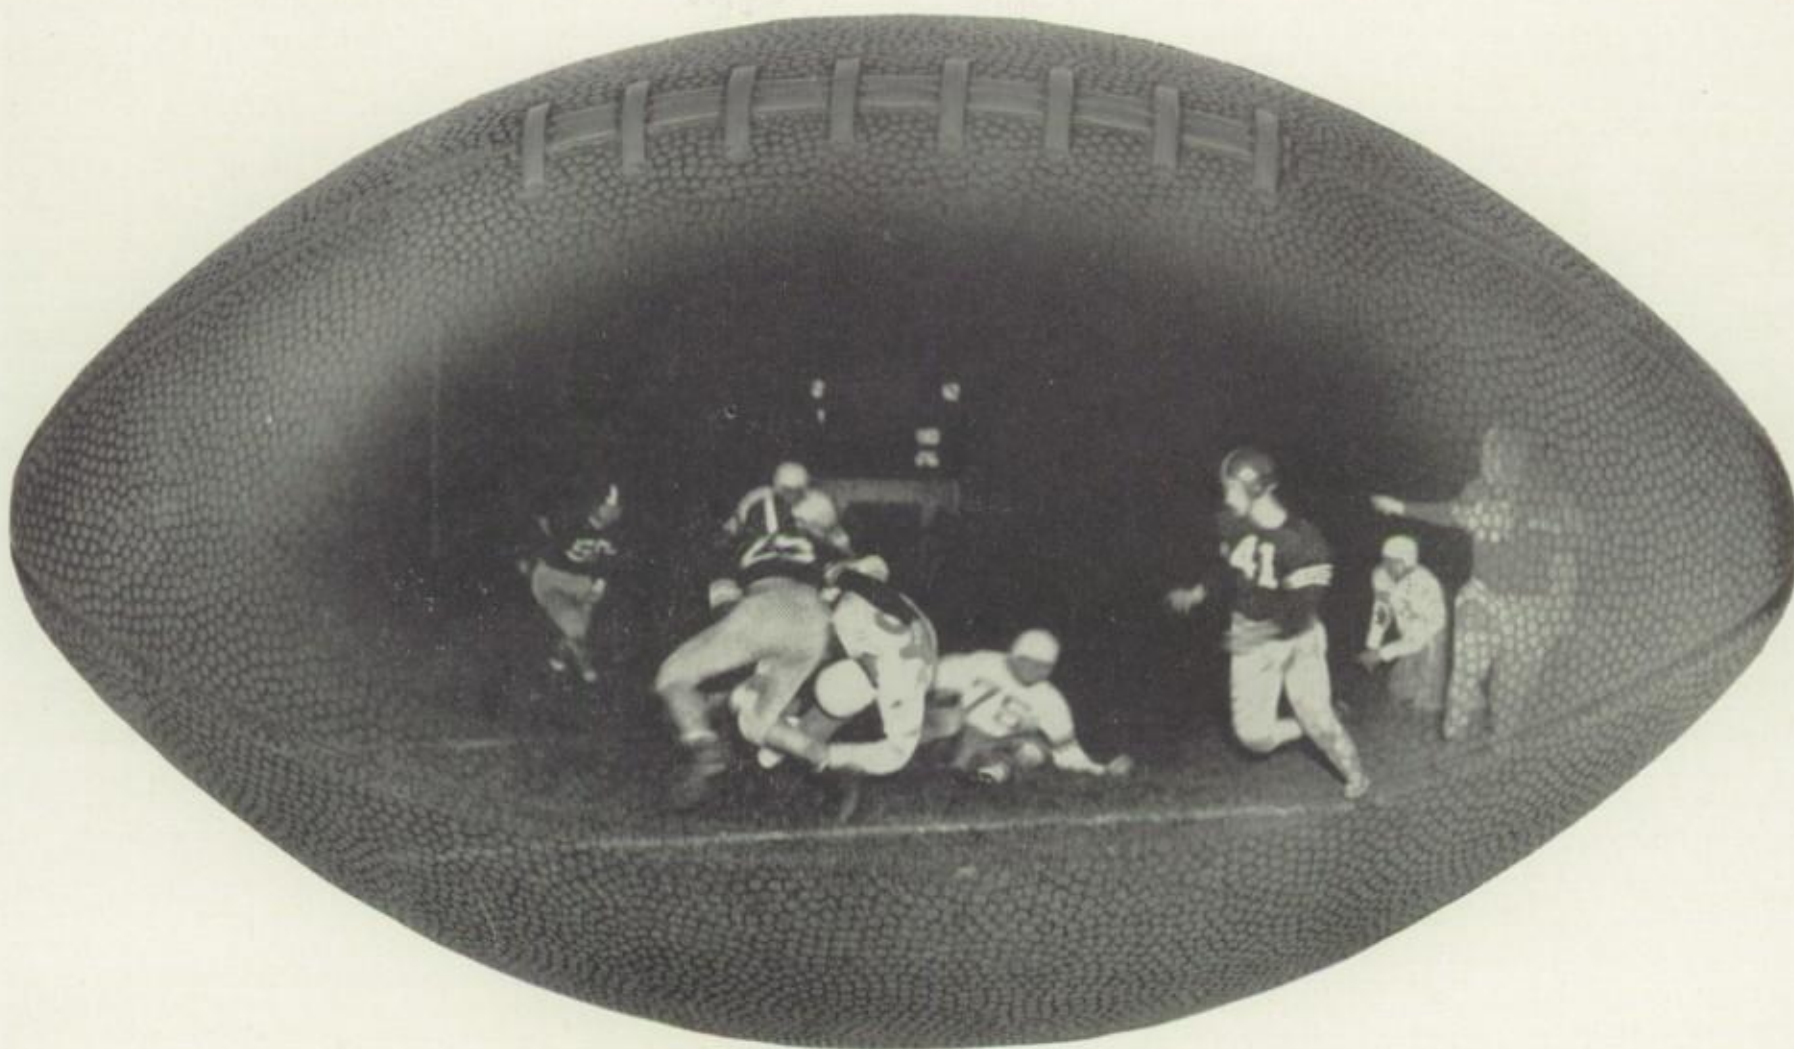

However, Laymon's lads pulled themselves out of that four-game losing streak and belted Frankfort's Nighthawks, 33-13, in the last home game of the season. This game celebrated Dad's night and every dad of a Wildcat gridder was certainly proud of the way the Kats bounced back. The game was fairly even the first half, but after half-time intermission, the Kats tore loose and were never headed from then on.

The last game of the season was at Logansport, and the Kats ended the season in good form by smearing the Berries, 55-7. After a surprise 50-yard run by Logan's Jay Byers for a touchdown early in the game, it was Kokomo all the way. The Kat landslide was started by Roger Beane, who scored two quick touchdowns on runs of thirty-six and sixty-one yards. Beane was the game's high scorer with twenty-one points, while Bill Taylor pushed across sixteen points.

We think that Coaches Tuffy Laymon and Bob Hamilton should be complimented on their fine handling of the boys in spite of the obstacles that were presented through most of the season.

The play is stopped beneath a pile of white jerseys.

"We hit 'em high and we hit 'em low . . ."

BASKETBALL

Kokomo High School has long been a well respected and formidable name in the realm of Hoosier basketball, and the 1952-53 edition of Wildcat hoopsters was certainly no exception to the rule.

Coach Joe Platt, working with the leftovers from last year's graduation-riddled powerhouse, patched up the holes left by six senior stalwarts with ambitious and aggressive youngsters who surprised the more pessimistic of Kokomo followers and won the hearts of all.

That outfit was good enough to win its first eight straight tilts before dropping a ball game. They led the North Central Conference race for a good measure of the season and finished fourth, behind three of the state's highest-ranked teams. They fought their way valiantly to the final sixteen of the state tournament before falling by the wayside and ended the campaign with a commendable 17-9 record.

Coach Platt uncaged his charges against Wabash, and the Kats promptly rolled over the outclassed Apaches by a convincing 79-49 margin.

A week later Tipton's mighty little Blue Devils dropped in and Kokomo outran the visitors, 65-56.

The Kats made their NCC debut at Frankfort's Howard Hall and came home with a satsfying 56-45 victory under their belt.

Kokomo entertained Woody Weir's Marion Giants two days later and had little trouble in stopping Bobby Gowin and company, 58-35.

Lafayette Jeff paid a call and the Broncoes were promptly plastered by the Kats. The count was 76-59.

Don Holt's hook shot.

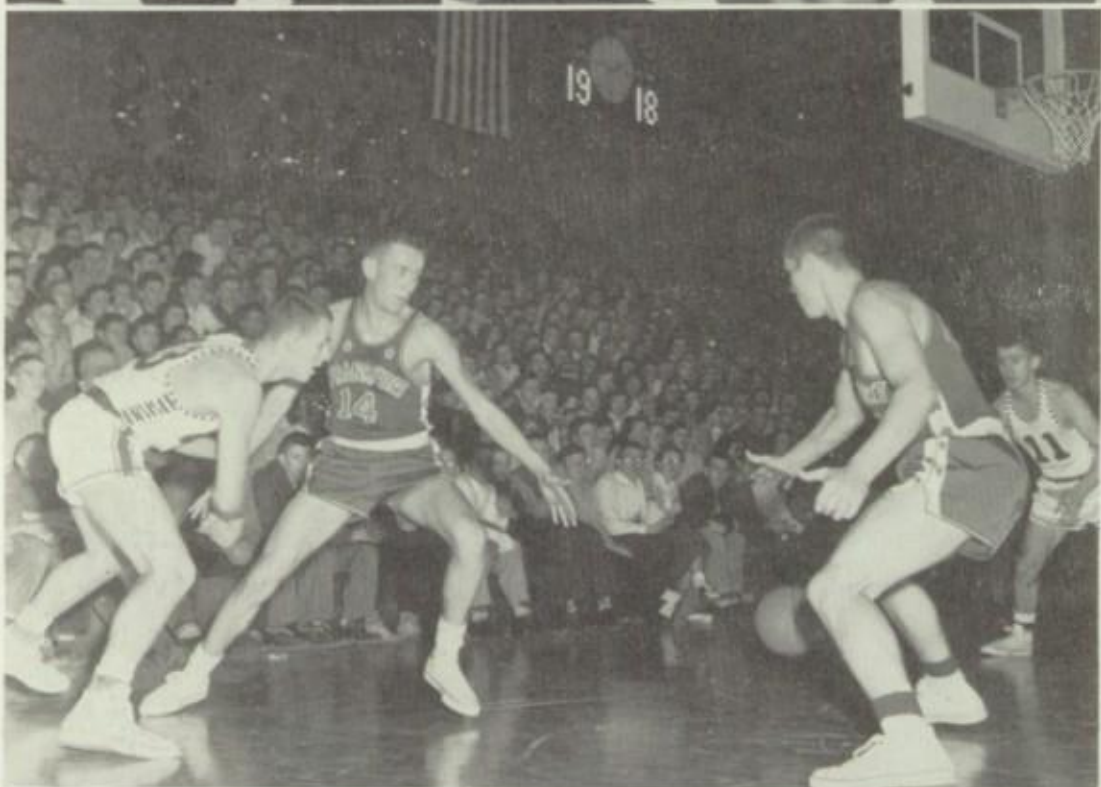

Big Bob Patchett makes a beautiful tip-in.

The next night the weary Wildcats tackled Bud Ritter's seasoned Peru Tigers on the Bengal's own floor. The Peruvians proved too much for the locals and Kokomo fell, 64-58.

Muncie Central's highly ranked Bearcats gave the Kats their first real licking of the campaign. Jay McCreary's cagers charged through the Kokomo defenses in full throttle for a 78-54 victory.

Striving to stay in the Conference running, Platt's Kats were well prepared to combat Indianapolis Tech's delayed offense and nearly beat the Greyclads at their own game. Tech won, however, 31-26, in an overtime.

Wrapping up the regular season with a tussle at New Castle, the Kokomoans ran into a stone wall. Paced by two energetic lads named Anderson and Ammerman, the torrid Trojans peppered the pot for a 72-56 win over the Kats.

As the sectional show got underway, Kokomo regained its winning ways and quickly bowled over Northwestern, 52-47; Flora, 73-69; and Delphi, an 80-44 victim, for its 30th sectional crown.

The Kats then prepared to face Peru in the regional opener. Although Bud Ritter made sure his Tigers were "up" for this battle against Kokomo, it was soon obvious that Kokomo was also very much "up" for the clash. The Kats clawed their way to a stunning 75-59 triumph over the bewildered Bengals.

In the nightcap the Kats found themselves confronted by a Sheridan outfit that wouldn't say "uncle." Kokomo squeaked by the little Sheridanites, 47-45.

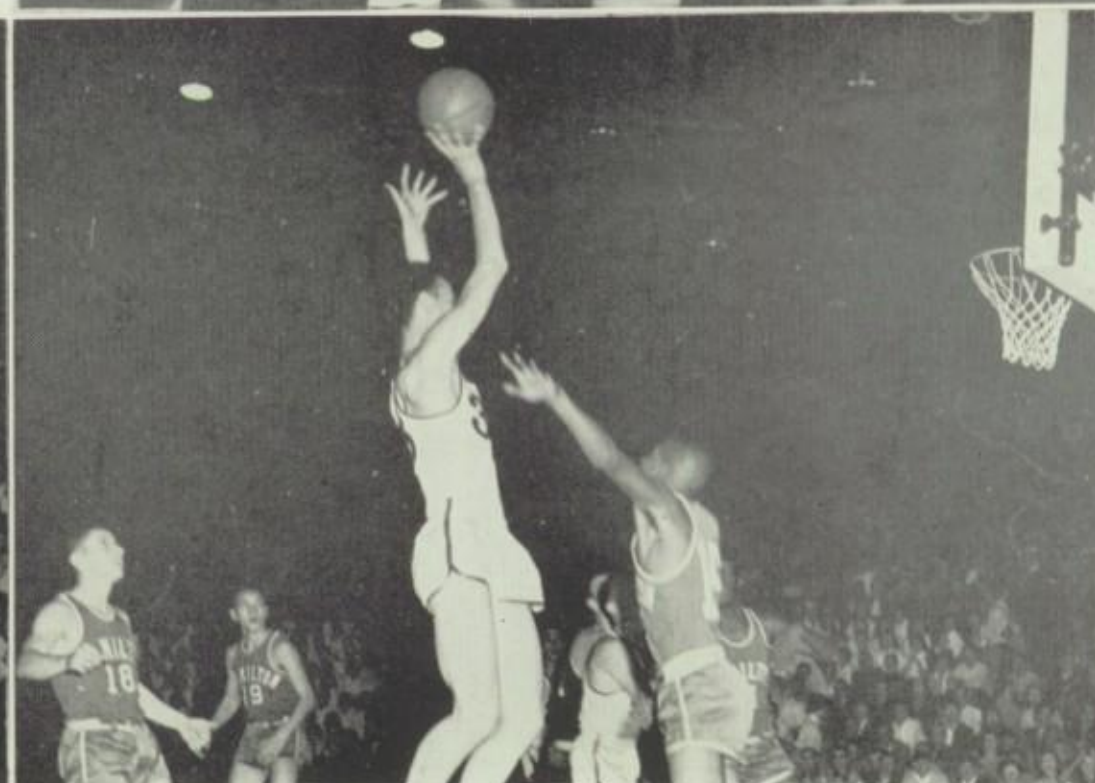

At Fort Wayne's fabulous coliseum the Wildcats, one of sixteen highschool quintets still in the running, tackled Hartford City in the semifinal. It proved to be the last game of the year for Kokomo's fighting five as the Airdales kayoed the Kats, 71-53.

It goes without saying that this year's basketball squad ranks among the all-time bests at Kokomo High. The 1952-53 team is typical of the outstanding athletic achievement associated with KHS and will certainly be remembered as the type of team which makes Indiana basketball the great sport it is today.

GOLF

The Kokomo Wildcat golf team shot their way to a winning season as they lost only two matches out of nine. After decisively defeating Peru, Russell Bratton's Kats took second in a four-way meet at Tech, losing only to the host. Later in the season after the Wildcats had won matches at Anderson, New Castle, and Logansport, they met Tech again, but the Green Wave won the second time. Variable weather conditions forced several postponements, but the Kats were able to meet and to defeat Marion before the tournaments started. In tournament play the Kats came in fourth in the Invitational at Lafayette, took second in the Sectional on a muddy course in Fort Wayne, and tied for seventh in the State.

TENNIS

Coach Olin Meritt's racqueteers, with only one senior on the squad, were much wiser from experience after completing a hard schedule this year. The tennis squad dropped seven matches in a row before eeking out a 4-3 victory over the Logan Berries. Seeking to cop the final match of the year, they dropped a decision to Jeff of Lafayette, 5-2. With only one senior, Jim Jeffrey, to be gone via the graduation route, we can look forward to greater expectations from next year's veteran-laden squad.

BASEBALL

Last spring Coach Clarence Laymon's baseball squad ended their season with a three-won, eight-lost record. The squad was young and in-experienced; nevertheless, they finished ninth in the tough North Central Conference.

The Kats opened their season against Marion St. Paul and were defeated, 5-1. Fulton was the next opposition and Kokomo batted their way to a 13-3 win.

Lafayette Jefferson was the first NCC opponent and Kokomo went down in defeat, 10-2. Jim Sprankle, now in the Brooklyn farm system, fanned 17 Kat batters.

Next on the Wildcat schedule was New Castle, and they were beaten, 7-4. A tight pitchers' duel was featured in the Muncie-Kokomo contest, but Muncie came out on top, 1-0.

Logansport pounded out a 11-5 win, and Indianapolis Shortridge slaughtered Kokomo, 18-1. Richmond was the next opponent at Kautz Field, and they took home a 10-3 victory.

Marion Giants were the next opponents on the Kat agenda, and for the seventh straight time the Kats were beaten. The final score was 9-2.

With only two games remaining, Kokomo found some new spirit in those two final games. The Kats out-hustled their opponents, both on the field and at the plate. They defeated both Indianapolis Tech and Frankfort by identical 5-4 scores.

Even though the record doesn't show an impressive season, the boys, learning a great deal from Coach Laymon and his assistant, Bob Hamilton, fought every game to win.

The KHS track men started their season with a big bang at the Hoosier relays. The Kat thinlies set two new records on the indoor track as Ken Toye ran the high hurdles in 7.7 seconds while the shuttle relay team copped the blue ribbon in a record 30.6 seconds. The Kats followed through with a win over Tech of Indianapolis in a dual meet before dropping the Kokomo relays to Gary Roosevelt's powerhouse.

Coach Bud Overton's team then bounced back to decision Anderson in its only other dual engagement. The Kats then continued on their winning ways by winning the conference and sectional meets. After taking second in the regionals and making a fine showing in the inter-conference meet, the team climaxed a successful season by capturing a respectable fifth place in the state meet.

CROSS COUNTRY

It takes something more than athletic ability to run the grueling cross country race, and our team coached by Mr. Frank Overton proved that they had that certain something. The team, sparked by seniors Dave Lott and Charlie Frank, won four of their five dual meets. They placed third in the Invitational Meet, fourth in the Conference Meet, third in the Sectional, and seventh in the State. Frank's performance was really outstanding. He finished first in three dual meets, the Invitational, the Conference, the Sectional, and he finished 11th in the State Meet. Mississinewa, Jeff, Wabash, and South Side of Fort Wayne all fell before our thinly clad runners while only Muncie defeated us in dual competition.

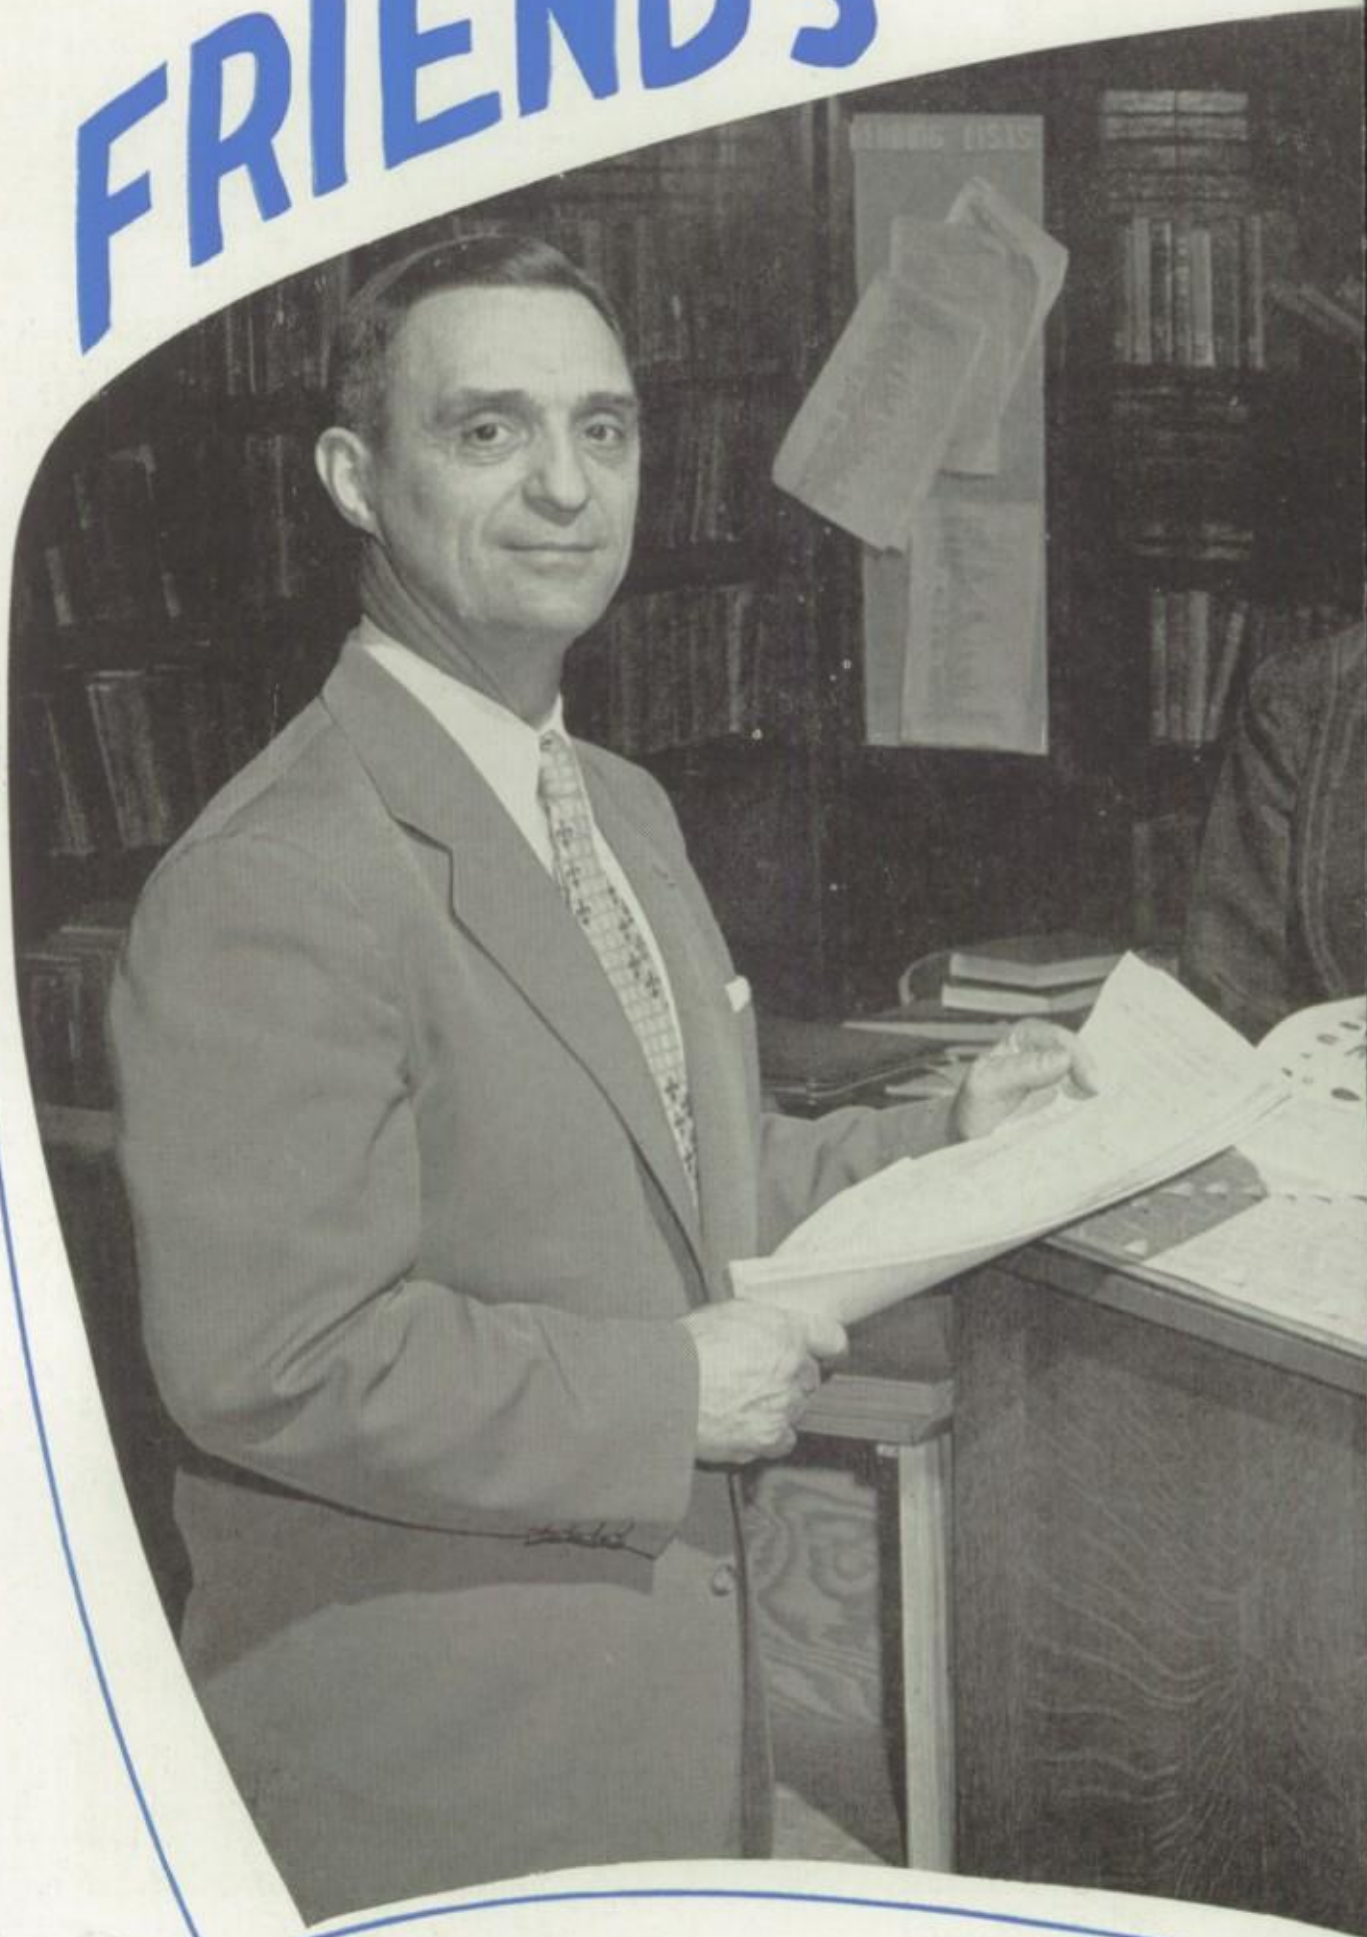

WRESTLING

Taking into consideration that this was only the second year of competition for Kokomo's wrestling team and Coach Robert Hamilton, their record is very impressive. In overall play, the team won five, lost four, and tied one, scoring a total of 195 points to 195 for their opponents and receiving two television offers. The wrestlers beat Broad Ripple, Marion, Anderson, and Ben Davis twice. They lost to Southport, Decatur Central, Lafayette Jeff, Shortridge, and tied Peru. In the NCC tourney they tied for fourth place with Muncie and placed fifth in the Sectional. Two Kokomo matmen, Blaine Merrill and Fred Hawkins, qualified for state competition. Merrill finished second in the Sectionals and Hawkins finished first.

SCHOOL BOARD

The Board of School Trustees, an appointive body of five members, is the policy-making body of the Kokomo School System. The members of the Board this year were Mr. J. Ralph Mason, president; Mrs. John E. Fell, secretary; Mr. H. Alva Edwards, treasurer; and Mr. Charles Hathaway and Mr. Lawrence J. Evans. These five members, along with the Superintendent, plan and finance the entire physical program of the whole school system. With the needs of the students in mind, the Board also hires teachers and other school personnel, fixes the school budget, and formulates school policies.

Two main projects under the direction of the School Board this year were the completion of the new Roosevelt School addition and the construction of Petit Park School.

The School Board has done a commendable job this year in coping with the many problems of our school system. Their careful planning and foresight insure us of an outstanding school plant in the years to come.

PRINCIPAL

The chief of the Kokomo High School tribe is Mr. O. I. Farmer. Although he is a comparative newcomer to our high school, this being his second year as principal, he has won a warm place in the hearts of students and teachers alike. His interest in their problems is revealed in his careful consideration of their queries. Those who have come in contact with him remember his friendly smile, warm greeting, and helpful advice.

Mr. Farmer's office is a center of busy activity. There many administrative problems, in addition to the many personal problems, are ironed out with utmost care. Our principal has been prepared for the great task of meeting these problems by his experiences as principal of Washington and Roosevelt Junior High Schools, as well as of various grade schools. The result is the smooth operation of our high school.

Yes, the operation of a large school such as ours is a big job, but Mr. Farmer has handled it well. In doing so, he has become not merely an administrator but a friend. He will be considered as such by many of us for years to come.

Mr. O. I. Farmer, Principal.

Mrs. Audra Lindley and Miss Estella G. Pearce.

DEANS OF GIRLS

The door of Room 205 is always open to the girls at KHS who seek advice or assistance from our deans concerning absence problems, classroom difficulties, or home problems. If they are not too busy they will gladly hear about the latest boy friend, the big game that is coming, or last week's big dance. They are wonderful friends to have and remember long after graduation. Their goal is to make each girl a better school citizen.

Freshmen and Sophomore girls need to get started on the right foot in their first few years in high school, and Miss Estella Pearce helps them to accomplish this. Teaching Orientation classes and sponsoring Girls' League make her a busy person.

The Junior and Senior girls are very capably advised by Mrs. Audra Lindley. Each day she teaches English and Orientation classes. She is co-sponsor of Girls' League and sponsor of the Junior-Senior Leadership Club.

Mrs. Lindley and Miss Pearce have proven to be true friends we can depend upon when we need guidance. They have helped us with all our problems, both large and small.

DEAN OF BOYS

An understanding friend to all is our Dean of Boys, Mr. John Paul Jones. His tall stature is a familiar and welcome sight to students and faculty alike.

Writing out pass slips for those who are late, listing absentees, filing excuses, helping with problems, and doing many other things constitute the work of the Dean of Boys. His office scouts enjoy helping him and willingly give their time not only during school hours but also before and after school.

Is there a problem bothering you? Are there incidents around KHS which you don't understand? If so, Dean Jones will gladly offer you his able assistance.

Not only does he serve as dean but also as assistant principal. His spare time is very limited, since he is adviser of the Boys' Legion Board of Directors and of the Student Council.

None of us will ever forget Dean Jones, our true friend, who works to his full capacity to serve the student body.

Mr. John Paul Jones, Dean of Boys.

FRESHMEN

Stop, you upperclassmen! Don't be too quick to flip over these next few pages without first giving them some thought. True, here are only freshmen, but among them are the future leaders of KHS.

This fact is a little hard for many an experienced senior to realize, but if he thinks back a few years, he'll remember that he was once as green and bewildered as these freshies were. At first the kids had the usual troubles: finding the right room at the right time, the usual pestering from the upperclassmen's practical jokes, and the constant ridicule. However, they caught on quickly, and indeed, many a junior and senior boy found himself in the "clutches" of a freshman girl before the end of the year!

Many members of the class have already found the pleasures of competing in extra-curricular activities. In the field of sports, the upperclassmen may find the future athletes of our school now playing on freshmen teams. In other fields too, the freshmen showed their potential abilities. To the Student Council they sent Jeannette Barnett, Carol Brown, Katherine Cornell, John Davis, Eddie Ferguson, Pat Foreman, Danny Grecu, Rita Heiny, Carolyn Hicks, Kay Kelly, Bill Marshall, Robert Miller, Judy Pitzer, LuAnn Shank, Elizabeth Simpson, Susan Striebel, Judy Tubbs, Judy Winslow, and Marge Ramsay. The freshmen elected Elizabeth Simpson and Judy Winslow; and Paul Bingaman, Phil Darst, and Bill Rouse to represent them as members of the Girls' League Council and Boys' Legion Board of Directors, respectively.

By its actions during the year, the freshmen class has shown great promises for the years to come, when they will become the senior class of '56. So let's all join together to say, "Good luck, Freshies, and keep up the good work!"

SOPHMORES

The sapling is growing now; the leaves are breaking forth from the buds. Some people wondered just how the sapling would fare at first, but now they can see its promise of becoming a large, strong, sturdy tree.

A lesson in natural history? No, folks, that's just a different way of describing the sophomore class.

"A little silly," you say scornfully. But if you stop to think, the sophomores can be compared in many ways to a tree. A young green sapling in their freshmen year, a growing tree beginning to blossom out in the sophomore year, and what lies ahead? Will the tree be blown down in a strong gust of wind? We who have watched the sophomore class for a couple of years certainly don't think so; in fact, we'd be willing to bet anything against it. From what we've seen, we'd say those limbs are loaded with talent!

They entered into plenty of extracurricular activities and flourished on them, as a tree is nourished on sunlight and water. They picked the choicest of blossoms from their branches to represent them in Student Council, in the persons of Don Babb, Dorothy Beck, Sally Cassida, Sarah Delo, Bill Finley, Julie Fuller, Jane Hobson, Judy Jett, Myra Klingerman, John Lynn, Shirley Montgomery, Pat Newkirk, Marcia Peters, Dick Scoggins, Don Snow, Earline Tobin, and Mary Wright. Chosen to represent the girls on the Girls' League Council were Mary Richardson and Myra Klingerman, while the boys elected Don Babb, Glen Lee, and Paul Root to the Boys' Legion.

As you can see from this brief picture, it would take more than a strong wind to uproot the fine young tree that is the sophomore class. It has begun to take advantage of the opportunities and to send its roots deep into the rich soil that is KHS.

JUNIORS

Carolyn Mustard, Treasurer; Harold Cox, President;
Janet Frazer, Secretary; Gene Miller, Vice President.

The members of the Junior Class were easily identified by their sparkling new class jewelry, which they wore with all the pride and prestige due to such privileged upper-classmen.

To guide and direct their activities, the Class of '54 chose their officers with the utmost care. They elected Harold Cox, president; Gene Miller, vice-president; Janet Frazer, secretary; and Carolyn Mustard, treasurer.

Representing the Juniors in the Boys' Legion were Bill Grant, John Hudson, and Gene Miller. Mary Jo Vaught and Debbie Kopelov made a fine showing for their class as members of the Girls' League Council.

Elected to speak for the Juniors in the Student Council were Pat Bordner, Lola Durham, William Ford, Mary Louise Harper, Melva Johnson, Rita Bratton, Larry Dwiggins, Joyce Lightfoot, Carolyn McKay, Kay Phelps, Gene Miller, Elizabeth Spangler, Dick Shank, and Janice Warren.

The most important of all Junior activities is, of course, the Junior-Senior Reception. The mighty Seniors were much impressed and very grateful for the successful and memorable Reception of 1953, which was supervised by Kay Kellum and Larry Runyon.

Much of the success of this Class of '54 must be accredited to the capable guidance and kind understanding of its sponsors. The Junior Class expresses its appreciation to the following advisers: Mrs. Blanche Greenlee, Mr. J. P. Jones, Mrs. Ruth Gosma, Mr. Edward Maddox, Mrs. Jane Jones, Mr. Frank Moore, Mr. Joseph Mullins, Mr. Geneal Prather, Mr. Chester Thompson, and Mr. Kenneth Warthen.

SENIORS

Jack Walter, Vice-President; Marlene Frye, Secretary; John Ringle, President; John Klingerman, Treasurer.

Just four years ago, we, the seniors of '53, began our high school career as freshmen, anticipating with numerous dreams the coming years ahead. We became so busy with our many activities that time soon brought us up to the important role of the Seniors.

The first of this year started casually enough, but soon we found ourselves involved as the starring players in the drama of life at KHS. We headed such publications as the Red and Blue, the Sargasso, and the Lens.

We starred in such first-rate productions as Student Council, Honor Society, Girls' League, and the Boys' Legion. Mary Jo Arnold was president of Girls' League, while Pat Darlin and Shirley Ironmonger were elected to the League Council. The president of Boys' Legion, Chuck Grace, was assisted by Cliff Clester, Guy Tillet, and Roger Beane on the Board of Directors. Rick Baugher was elected president of Student Council with Barbara Bassett as secretary and Julie Grable as treasurer.

The Senior class was capably directed by our class officers. John Ringle as president, was aided by Jack Walter, vice-president; Marlene Frye, secretary; and John Klingerman, treasurer.

The show went on to find us featuring some big attractions such as the Hullabaloo, Dramatic and Thespian plays, and of course, our own Senior class play.

Many of us attended such events as the Stardust, Autumn Prom, and Junior-Senior Reception. Queen-elects for the Junior-Senior Reception were Barbara Bassett, Barbara Beck, Marlene Frye, Roberta Richey, Sue Wetzel, while Mary Jo Arnold and Julie Dieden were candidates for the Stardust sweetheart.

When as Seniors we needed directions, our Senior advisers were always glad to help us. We offer our thanks to the following teachers who helped create a most pleasant Senior year: Mrs. Frank Kern, Miss Lyla Sill, Miss Lilith Farlow, Miss Chestina Williams, Mr. Olin Meritt, and Mr. Kenneth Crook.

As we near the end of our high school days, we shall always cherish the memories of the biggest and final events of our high school career. Exams, Junior-Senior Reception, Class Day, Baccalaureate, and the Commencement exercises brought the curtain down on our final attempt of portraying Seniors.

We leave KHS after four wonderful years which have prepared us for the succeeding years that we now face. We shall always remember KHS as playing a vital role in our future success.

And so, on the evening of June 9, we, the Seniors of the Class of 1953, received the diplomas which marked the end of our high school career. These four marvelous years will live forever in our hearts, and the rich memories of our senior year will be always treasured through the pages of this book. But now, to our teachers, the administration, and our fellow students, we sadly say, "Farewell, and thanks for the memories."

THANKS TO OUR UPTOWN FRIENDS . . .
